MOVE TO SELL AIRPORT TRACT RUNS INTO SNAG

Ordinance Sponsored by Kyle Referred to Committee After Solons Clash.

WOULD SELL IT FOR $300

Quarter of Acre at Corner of Huge Field Believed Sought by Telephone Company.

A surprise move to sell a part of the municipal airport property, described by Mayor Claude M. Hunter as the "most prominent" portion of the field, hit a snag in city council last night.

The legislation, sponsored by Third Ward Councilman George C. Kyle, a real estate dealer, was finally referred to the utilities committee after councilmen clashed over the issue which Kyle had sought to have passed at once as an emergency measure.

Would Be Sold At Auction.

The ordinance would authorize the sale of a quarter of an acre located at the northwest corner of the airport with a 100 foot frontage on both state route 13 and the airport road.

Service-Safety Director Earl A. Nist said that he knew nothing of the measure which would authorize him to offer for sale to the highest bidder the piece of property at a price of not less than $300.

Several councilmen questioned the legislation when Kyle asked for suspension of the rules in order to obtain immediate passage of the bill.

Confusion broke out on the first roll call when council members started to vote no. Council President Karl P. Troll explained that the bill would be given two readings before the vote was to be taken.

Says Utility Wants It.

"A city utility desires to erect a sub-station on North Main street road and needs the ground," Kyle said.

Crum asked who the utility was but got no answer. It has been learned that the Mansfield Telephone company has been interested in acquiring property.

Kyle then continued: "It seems to me that the city wants to co-operate and encourage the growth of the utilities here so they can take care of their patrons.

"They are asking for the location to build this station and I would like to have the support of council on passage."

Crum again interrupted to ask what utility it was.

Quells Revolt

BOMB THREATS SUBDUE 'REDS'

Spanish Communists Submit After Miaja's Ultimatum; Peace Move Renewed.

(By Associated Press)

HENDAYNE, France—(At the Spanish frontier)—Spanish communists who had revolted against the National defense government headed by General Jose Miaja surrendered today in response to an ultimatum threatening concentrated aerial bombardment, the official Madrid radio station announced.

The surrender was announced 45 minutes before the deadline after which, the government had declared, the rebels would have been bombed into submission.

Thus Miaja, "savior of Madrid," who now proposes to surrender if a "worthy peace" can be worked out with Nationalist Generalissimo Franco, was reported to have put down the one-day-old rebellion against his peace policy.

Miaja's troops had fought sporadically for 24 hours with the communists.

Early morning dispatches from Madrid said the city was quiet except for the Cuatros Caminos sector on the north, where sporadic fighting still was going on. The rebels were in isolated houses.

The Madrid dispatches said the heart of the resistance was crushed yesterday, when Miajo used

LONG-SOUGHT SEWER SURVEY FINALLY OK'D

APPROPRIATES $2,000

Measure Providing for Hiring of Engineer Calls for Detailed Report.

Setting a June 1 deadline for its completion, city council today had authorized the much-discussed and long-sought survey of the city's antiquated sanitary sewer system.

Authorization was voted last night for the employment of a consulting engineer to conduct the survey, and $2,000 was set aside to pay for it.

The legislation provides for the retaining of a consultant to be paid at the rate of $10 a day for the actual days worked and all other personnel that may be required in the city engineering department.

Provides for Report.

The measure also requires that the survey be completed and a detailed written report be submitted to the city council before June 1.

Service-Safety Director Earl A. Nist told council that the $2,000 was to be appropriated from a balance left in a city-WPA fund created three years ago to finance the erection of the city's sewage plan, and which City Solicitor Marion D. Ward recently ruled could be used for engineering purposes.

He said that the amount necessary for the survey was based upon City Engineer C. W. Statler's estimates and on informal bids which the city had received on the work in the past two weeks.

Bonds Would Finance Work.

Mayor C. M. Hunter proposed a month ago to have the survey completed to serve as the basis for a sewer bond issue which he has asked council to put up for a vote at the August primaries. The bonds would finance the revamping of the entire sanitary sewer system.

Estimates on the rehabilitation of the system have been between $50,000 and $100,000.

It has been pointed out that the comprehensive survey of the sewers, showing the present system along with estimated needs for the future would provide engineers with complete data concerning pro-

WINS RATE CUT

Zanesville Gas Users Benefit by Court Decision.

Zanesville citizens, who had been paying a rate of 68 cents per thousand for natural gas (on a basis of 5,000 feet used per month) won a reduction of 13 cents a thousand in the state supreme court today.

The supreme court refused to overrule lower Muskingum county courts which upheld a permanent injunction granted a taxpayer.

After expiration of a five-year rate ordinance in 1938, the city voted a lower rate which the company refused.

The company continued to bill customers at the old rate, but C. A. Maxwell brought a taxpayer's suit to enjoin the collections, and won in common pleas and the appellate court.

The supreme court refused today to overrule the lower courts, and the decision will save Zanesville consumers from $5,000 to $10,000 monthly.

Under the old rate, consumers paid $3.40 for 5,000 feet in 1938. The new rate makes the bill for the same amount of gas $2.75.

SPRING ON WAY

Rain And Warmer Forecast After Mercury Falls To 16 Above.

Spring-like weather was on its way back today after winter in a final fling last night dropped the mercury to 16 degrees above zero in Mansfield.

Cloudy skies and warmer weather will bring light rain tonight and Thursday, the weatherman said. The temperature at noon today stood at 38 degrees, four degrees above yesterday's high of 34.

Cold Toll Climbs on Here While Medical G-Men Battle Flu Bogey

It's Still Mystery In Spite of Prevalence and Recurrences.

ALTHOUGH there was a slight increase today in the number of cases of colds, grippe and influenza among Mansfield school children, the danger of an epidemic is diminishing as the "danger period" for these enemies of public health is passing.

At Senior high school there was an increase of 25 cases over the 230 reported yesterday, and a few more absentees in the grade schools. The total number of children out of school today, because of these three diseases, was 757 as compared with the normal figure of 325 absentees per day.

Three teachers were included in today's list: Robert McFarland and Earl Heasley, of Senior high staff, and Miss Mary Engwiler of Western avenue staff.

At Washington, in the Public Health building, are charts and grafs of the nation's sneezes, chills, aches and fevers, which show that the peak over the nation is between January and April. The best the experts can do right now is to announce that there is no epidemic, nor is there likely to be one any more this year.

Medical science is frankly baffled by the disease that has come to be known as Spanish influenza and which first terrified Americans in the great epidemic of 1918 when it took hundreds of thousands of lives.

Medical men for the most part admit that they don't know, for a fact, that there is a definite changeless disease that can legitimately be tagged "influenza." Nobody knows where a cold leaves off and grippe or influenza begins, nor where influenza leaves off and pneumonia takes hold in a complicated case. Therefore, medical reports on the number of cases can't be accurate.

Here's how the influenza waves vary from month to month, according to the way medical men break down the line between colds and grippe, and influenza. Figures at the side show the number of cases diagnosed in the past nine years as the flu. According to this, Mansfield's 757 cases of colds in public schools would mean only a few cases of real flu.

Medical men, both past and present, agree that quickly changing weather conditions have a definite influence on the spread of influenza—but they can't prove it.

The one thing on which they agree—and can prove—is that the best treatment for the flu is absolute rest in bed.

U. S. Willing To Eliminate Profits Tax

(By International News Service)
(Copyright, 1939.)

WASHINGTON — The treasury is willing to eliminate the controversial undistributed profits tax from the federal revenue structure as a move toward business appeasement.

Government tax experts informed International News Service today that the treasury has no objection to allowing this tax to expire at the close of this year.

Considered a stumbling block in the government's efforts to better its relations with industry, the profits levy may be supplanted by a moderate rise in the basic corporate income taxes, tax authorities reported.

* * *

Members of the business advisory council, an organization of leading industrialists, recently renewed their demands for abolition of this tax. The group has just concluded conferences with Secretary of Commerce Harry L. Hopkins at which the taxation problem was discussed.

In addition, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau and Undersecretary John Hanes last week heard further complaints against the tax from members of the National Association of Manufacturers.

* * *

Hanes, who is in charge of the administration's tax program, is known to oppose the undistributed profits tax in principle. Hanes is represented as believing that elimination of this tax would do much in bringing about government-business accord.

Under the existing revenue law, corporations with net income of more than $25,000 are subject to the profits tax. Corporations paying out earnings in the form of dividends are given a two and one-half per cent tax reduction on each dollar so distributed. The tax is not operative against corporations with net income under $25,000.

NORWALK —(U.P.)— Counsel for Mrs. Coletta Schlett, 28, who with Harold Hastings, 35, is held in jail here on first degree murder charges, said today that she could prove she was home the night her husband was killed.

(By Associated Press)

NORWALK—The widow of Carl Schlett, 29-year-old riding master, and Harold Hastings, 35, who Prosecutor Rex Bracy said often visited the riding master's home, were held today on first degree murder charges in connection with Schlett's mysterious death.

Coroner J. D. Bradish held that Schlett was "deliberately run down and killed with an automobile" the night of Jan. 26 on a rural highway 10 miles west of here.

Taken to Jail.

Coletta Schlett, 28, and Hastings were arrested at Sandusky, where both reside, several hours after a grand jury returned indictments against them. Sheriff David A. Barry lodged them in the Huron county jail here.

The accused were among 44 witnesses who appeared before the jury during its three-day inquiry.

"Hastings has been often at the Schlett home for a year or more," the prosecutor said. "Mrs. Schlett has been seen often in Hastings' car and even driving the automobile.

"A damaged headlight on the Hastings car leads us to believe it was the car which ran down Schlett. We have evidence of complicity against Mrs. Schlett."

Bracy declined to divulge the alleged evidence against the widow, but authorities said insurance carried by Schlett would have brought her $15,000 in the event of his accidental death.

Walked to Stables.

Schlett left his Sandusky home the night of his death to walk to the nearby riding stables, where he was riding master. His body was found by a farmer the next morning beside a telephone pole 15 miles away.

Investigators said evidence indicated a motorist swerved to the wrong side of the highway to strike the victim, but they also considered the possibility that Schlett was struck by a car elsewhere and the body transported to the place where it was discovered.

AVERTS LAY-OFF OF 400 ON WPA

Transfer of Flood Control Workers to Other Projects Assures Them of Jobs.

Nearly 400 county WPA workers who were faced with a lay-off before March 21 had been assured jobs today on work relief projects set up by the city and county.

Approximately 250 of the men, now employed on the city-county flood control project, will be transferred this week to the county's road program that was started last summer, H. S. Hursh, engineer for the flood control project, said.

Another 150 workers will be shifted from the same project within the next two weeks, either to the road program or to a $70,000 sidewalk and gutter and water mains project approved last night by city council.

Reduction of the number of men on the flood control project from 550 to 150 was ordered by the state WPA office which described the project as "heavily over-manned." The order was made to conserve funds and assure completion of the job, WPA officials said.

Virtually all of the 400 surplus men will be provided for on the

The former actress, once the wife of Cary Grant, screen actor, arrived recently from London to visit her mother.

ROGERS ANGRY

Charges Effort to Discredit Him on License Bill.

The ire of Senator P. H. Rogers, who represents Richland county, was aroused today by what he described as an undercover campaign to discredit his sponsorship of a bill, the Associated Press reported today.

The measure would require motorists to carry a miniature of their license plates as further identification of the registration.

Senator Rogers said opponents of the bill were attempting to link his support to the fact that his brother owned $200 worth of stock in the Auto License Safe company of Elyria, manufacturer of the miniature license device.

He declared "I have no interest, direct or indirect, in the company itself," Rogers said. "It is ridiculous to claim that I am supporting the bill because of my brother's small financial interest in the company."

Rogers added that he learned of his brother's stockholdings only Monday night, "long after I gave my backing to this bill."

GALION DRIVER DIES IN CRASH

Instantly Killed on Way to Work Today as Car Hits Another at Crossing.

(By Staff Correspondent)

GALION—George Elbert Newell, 43, of 415 Harding Way West, was killed at 6:10 a. m. today when his automobile collided with one driven by C. C. White at the intersection of Harding Way West and Union street.

Dr. O. R. Kackley, Crawford county coroner, said that Newell suffered a crushed chest, a punctured lung, and hemorrhage of the stomach, and was killed instantly.

Newell, an electric welder at the Pennsylvania railroad shops at Crestline, was en route to work when the accident happened. After striking the White car, Newell crashed into the front of the Longstreth Monument works at the intersection, according to Galion police. He was not thrown.

The crossing is guarded by a traffic light. White told police that he had the green light and was traveling south on Union street when struck. White, a janitor at the junior high school here, is not being held by police. He was not injured.

Born March 14, 1895 at Point Pleasant, W. Va., Newell came to Galion from Crestline four years ago. He had been employed at the Pennsylvania shops for the past 14 years.

He is survived by his wife, Nellie, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Celestial Newell of West Virginia; two daughters, Miss Alberta Newell and Mrs. Charlotte Cantrell, both of Galena, O., four brothers, two sisters and two grandchildren. Funeral arrangements are incomplete. Burial will be in the Marion cemetery.

Kalbfleisch Fails to Confer With Huston.

The word battle between Municipal Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch and Common Pleas Judge C. H. Huston over the handling of the Allen K. Ports case apparently was ended today with Judge Kalbfleisch making no effort to confer with Huston.

Asserting that he could "see no reason for a conference on the matter," Judge Huston said, however, that he was willing to confer with Kalbfleisch any time it is convenient for both of them.

Judge Huston added that he had heard nothing further from the municipal judge since they talked briefly by telephone in reference to critical statements made by Judge Huston when he sentenced Ports to the penitentiary Monday.

Judge Huston had criticized the failure of city officials to ask for legal action against Ports before his indictment for embezzlement, as "buck-passing." Judge Kalbfleisch protested the charge was unfair, and said he had taken the case up with the prosecutor's office.

Routzon Comes To City To Look Over New Job Tomorrow

Appointed secretary-manager of the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce yesterday, John G. Routzon, Lancaster, will make his first official visit to the city tomorrow to look over his new position and meet his directors before taking over his duties here April 1.

Reached by telephone at the Lancaster Chamber of Commerce where he is now secretary, Routzon told The News-Journal that he "regarded very highly" his appointment to the Mansfield post.

"I am elated to have been selected to serve your city," he said. "I will do my best to carry on in the same degree of progress that the Chamber of Commerce and Mansfield has enjoyed during the four and a half years that Paul W. Williams held the position."

Routzon was selected yesterday by the board of directors from 35 candidates to succeed Williams, who has become managing director of the Chamber of Commerce in Dayton.

Parking Meter Proposal Goes On Shelf Without Fuss, Furore

The proposal to install parking meters in Mansfield's business district was on the shelf today, as had been expected. City council put it there last night.

It went there without fuss or furore, on motion of Councilman James E. Crum, chairman of the special committee which had recommended installation of the meters.

Crum asked Council President Karl P. Troll that the third reading on the measure be deferred and that the bill be referred to the committee before any further action be taken.

"It is the consensus of council that the current traffic campaign conducted by the police department is serving the purpose for which the meters were intended," Crum pointed out.

He said he felt that rather than have the bill defeated at this time he deemed it advisable to defer final action on the measure so that it could be held in abeyance and re-introduced at any future meeting if council decided the machines were necessary.

Agitation for the meters was started by the Retail Merchants association and the Chamber of Commerce several months ago to solve the downtown parking problem. At a meeting with Mayor Claude M. Hunter the merchants charged the police department with "lax enforcement" of the parking regulations and advocated the meters.

Jealousy Ruins Life

"DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

"It is strange to me that I cannot control the jealousy which, I realize, has ruined my life. I married when very young, and submitted my husband to violent scenes if he even spoke to a woman. Also I nagged him to leave his office, where a number of women were employed, to take an interior job in an office where there was none. His health failed. He suffered a nervous breakdown and died in a sanitarium a year later.

"I married again, thinking I had had my lesson and could control my jealousy. It was no matter. My second husband, after five years in which he tried to cure me of what he called "mental sickness, urged me to get a divorce. He was very decent about it and allowed me to sue on the grounds of mental cruelty, when I knew only too well the cruelty had been mine. I did not marry again, though I had several chances. I decided to live with my daughter by my first marriage. Her husband agreed to this.

"But the jealous demon within me continued. I was jealous of my daughter and the love her husband gave her. I was jealous of my grandchildren.

"Of course, this could not go on. I realized that even as I undermined my position in my daughter's home My son-in-law came to me one day and told me he had paid the entrance fee of $500 in a certain church home, where the ladies were made extremly comfortable. I begged and entreated, even agreed not to see the children and keep to my own room. But my son-in-law was adamant, and here I am in this institution.

"With a certain amount of relief I thought that the jealousy which has ruined my life would leave me here. There would be no one of whom I could be jealous. But again began this plotting and planning to be first—to get the matron on my side, to be approved of by the chaplain and the board of managers. I suppose I am too old to change. Do you think I would get any benefit by consulting a psychiatrist? UNHAPPY"

Jealousy such as you describe is as malignant as cancer, and like cancers of long duration such jealousies may be "inoperable." From your letter, not all of which is given here, it seems to me you haven't really tried to conquer this fault which has been your undoing.

It seems to me that any real help must come from your own efforts, to control a jealousy which you are capable of diagnosing and realizing in full its evil influence. You have my sincere sympathy.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

"You are sure she has no suspicion that you were the young officer of the guard who loved her so long ago?" I queried, sparring for time.

"I am positive," he returned. "That was one reason I grew these damnable things," touching with disdainful fingers his moustache and Vandyke beard, features which gave him an undeniable individual distinction and which had attracted many fascinated feminine eyes. "I knew that she never would recognize me behind them. Then, too, my hair is no longer black as it was when she knew me, and I am—of course—heavier than the slim boy who laid his heart at her feet.

"I took care in those first years of exile to break completely with my old world. The few who knew my secret would never have revealed it to Olga, of all people, for they knew that after her marriage to Rudolph, thus putting an irrevocable barrier between us, I would have died rather than bring her the unhappiness of futile memories.

"So Philip Schaumbem died—how I detested that name! It was the one gleam of light in the whole tragedy that I need never bear it again—and as far as Olga knew, until she came to America on that trip, Philip Veritzen had never been born. Then she met me as a rich man, one of the committee who welcomed her, and a man who later interested himself in her favorite charities. Later still she knew me as the man who arranged her escape, but I fear that she has some Quixotic idea in her head that she must not be dependent upon my charity. I confess I do not know how to approach her."

There was real bewilderment in his tones, and I put down with an iron hand my astonished amusement at his diffidence.

"You have asked me for advice," I said finally, "and naturally I am much flattered. But, frankly, I do not see how I am going to advise you unless I know a little more about your own reaction to what you are going to do. May I put a blunt question to you?"

Still Love Her?

"Of course," he answered quickly.

"Why are you asking the queen to marry you? Is it because you still love her; that you never have ceased to love her?"

There was a flash of his old theatrical gallantry in his answer and for the moment I hated him for it.

"You ought to know, better than anyone else," he said, speaking low tones as if Otto could hear, "that her immage was not always predominant in my mind."

"Fiddlesticks!" I said with purposed rudeness. "If you are referring to the emotion you once professed to feel for me, let me tell you now that I always knew it for what it was, a feeling ephemeral, born of your unstable temperament, a feeling which you have duplicated many times in your life. But from what you have told me today, I deduce that Queen Olga's image has never been absent from your heart, not even during your marriage to Noel's mother."

"You are right," he said at last, heavily, "but, thank God! Noel's gentle mother never suspected the truth and did not live long enough to find it out as I fear she eventually would have. I never have ceased to love Olga, but whether I still love her as I once did—ah! that's a question that is puzzling me."

Huck Is Popular.

It looks as if "Huckleberry Finn" will draw sufficiently to warrant holding it over through Friday. The Mark Twain story plus the Mickey Rooney personality are doing the trick. The regeneration of a boy who played hookey, smoked corncob pipes and refused to wear shoes makes an interesting yarn and ends with the boy still smoking, going without his shoes, and, one presumes, continues to fish instead of attend classes. The Ohio is showing "Huck."

Ginger Rogers at Park.

Have you ever written "Having a Wonderful Time" on your vacation post cards? This is the title of the Ginger Rogers-Douglas Fairbanks picture which is one of the Park attractions tomorrow and the rest of the week. Girl goes on a dreamed-of vacation and meets boy—and then the title. Red Skelton, Mansfield stage and radio star, is a featured player. The second film is Robert Donat's early picture, "39 Steps." Madeliene Carroll is opposite him.

Tragic Romance.

Because of the length of "Marie Antoinette," only one feature film is on the current Ritz bill One of the 10 best pictures of the year and one of those nominated for consideration of the Academy award, this dramatic and tragic historical film gives to film followers the story of the little princess who became empress of France and whose lovely head rolled in the dust when citizens turned against her. Norma Shearer and Tyrone Power play the tragic queen and the man who loved her.

—And Gay Romance.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

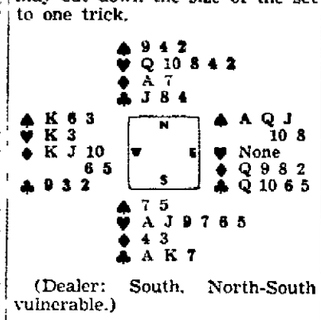
By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

YOU MUST SET IT TWO

If your side has chosen to double your vulnerable opponents, instead of making a game which you feel is in the cards for your side, a one-trick set is a losing proposition. You must set the enemy two tricks to get a result as good as or better than your own not-vulnerable game would have been.

It is up to you then to keep your eyes open to protect yourself against a lead-throwing end play or some other canny dodge which may cut down the size of the set to one trick.



(Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.)

At two tables of a tournament, South opened this deal with 1-Heart, West bid 2-Diamonds, North 2-Hearts. One West now saw fit to bid 4-Spades and the other preferred to double his vulnerable opponents at 4-Hearts.

Where East played spades, South led the club K, switched to the heart A, which was ruffed, East ran three trumps and lost two more tricks, to the diamond A and club A, making his contract for a score of 120 in tricks, 300 game bonus, total 420 points.

At the heart table, South ruffed the third round of spades, lost the second trump round to West and the diamond K knocked out the A. Declarer played a couple of other trumps, then led the diamond 7 from dummy. When East played the Q, that made the last trick his side could get, for he had to choose between giving declarer a ruff and discard on a spade or diamond lead; or lead from his club Q Had East been canny, he could have seen this situation when the diamond was led. He should have played low in the hope that his partner had the diamond J. If West did not, the declarer would have made nothing but a trick he would get anyway, for then he would have had to lose a club trick by leading the suit himself.

HOROSCOPE

For Thursday, March 9.

A perplexing day, with some adverse configurations, is found in the ruling aspects. There may be peculiar or strained relations on the sentimental, domestic or social side of life, with much to overcome by patience and tact. Hard work may be required to move happily in all directions. It is probable that there may be distractions from workaday activity by anxiety in the purely private affiliations.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves confronted by a year calling for restraint, patience, persistency and diplomacy to wrest harmony and happiness from certain harrassing or adverse conditions. These latter are mainly in the social, domestic or romantic relations.

A child born on this day may have a rather difficult disposition, wtih many conflicting sides. While inclined to be industrious and steady, it also may be restless, tempestuous and indulgent.

Tomorrow's Problem.

SOCIETY & CLUBS

FIRST PARTY FETES MARCH BRIDE-ELECT

Mrs. Earl Herrick Carries Out Dutch Theme In Decorations for Pre-Nuptial Dessert-Bridge Honoring Martha Fichter.

THE FIRST in a series of pre-nuptial parties honoring Miss Martha Fichter, bride-elect of George H. Bender, was given yesterday evening by Mrs. Earl Herrick at her home on West Park drive.

The affair was a linen shower and dessert-bridge, with a Dutch or Holland theme predominating. The guests were seated at small tables for the dessert, and each table was centered with a miniature dutch garden. These gardens were formed around a mirror-lake, and were made of snapdragons, sweet peas, narcissus and fern. Tiny china Hollanders dotted the gardens too.

Mrs. Herrick's young cousin, Marjorie Sellick, assisted with serving. She was dressed as a little Dutch girl and had her blond hair braided into pigtails. Later in the evening, when the guests presented the honoree with gifts, Marjorie carried them into the room in a large basket, which had bright tulips tied to the handle.

Bridge was the diversion of the evening, and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Russell Doehla and Mrs. Howard Yarnell, who presented them to Miss Fichter. Mrs. Herrick also gave the honoree a gift of linen.

Miss Fichter and Mr. Bender will be married on March 18 at the Detroit Avenue Methodist Episcopal church in Lakewood. Rev. Melvin C. Hunt, who was formerly pastor of the Central Methodist Episcopal church here, will perform the ceremony.

Sorosis To Meet Again March 21

With the club year fast drawing to a close plans for the last meeting in March were announced at the Women's Club last night when Miss Grace Courtney entertained members of the Mansfield Sorosis. Mrs. W. E. Wygant, who gave the paper on "Life and Customs in Scandinavia," will be hostess March 21 at the Club, and Mrs. S. D. Hoover and Miss Bertha Patterson will present the program.

In her talk last night Mrs. Wygant told of holiday customs, the daily life of Scandinavian peoples, and the educational and cultural facilities of their community life. Mrs. F. M. Remy followed with a review of the book "A Scandinavian Summer," by Harry Frank, in which the author told of life, industry and scenery in the northern European countries. Roll call was answered with the names of famous Scandinavian people.

Entertain Guests During Session of W. W. G.

Mrs. A. L. Fankhauser, Mrs. Oliver McAllister, Mrs. John Pocock and Mrs. Katherine Pocock were guests of the Senior World Wide guild of the Park Avenue Baptist church last evening when Mrs. Paul Birmelin entertained at her home on Springmill street. There were also 14 members in attendance at the meeting, when Mrs. Russell Odenkirk, president, conducted the business session.

Mrs. Clare Casto read the devotions, and Mrs. Wayne Williams reviewed the study book. Miss Mary Lou Balliett, associate hostess for the evening, assisted the hostess, when refreshments were served later. A covered-dish dinner at the church will be an event of April 4 for members of the guild.

* * *

ENTERTAINS GROUP.

The regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the International Typographical Union was held last night at the home of Mrs. Harold Bracey, 35 Altamont avenue, with 12 members present. Prizes were won by Mrs. P. M. Wragg and Mrs. Rose Graham. The next regular meeting of the auxiliary will be held April 4 at the home of Mrs. Walter Hartwig on McPherson street. Mrs. Donna Beckett was a guest of the organization.

Readings, Music on Program of Circle

A program including a dialogue by the Misses Virginia Jenkins and Geraldine Hostettler, and a reading by Miss Jenkins was given last night at the parish house when 38 members of the Helpers circle of the First Lutheran church met. Miss Laura Konrad read the devotions.

After a brief meeting the program was given. In addition to the above features Miss Eloise Harbaugh played several violin numbers with Miss Anna Klippel at the piano. Hostesses last night were Miss Mary Hamm, Mrs. Cora Baer, Mrs. Wilhemina Maul, Miss Ethel Wirts, Mrs. Mayme Guiher, and Mrs. Florence Herbrand. The next meeting will be April 4 at the parish house.

REGULAR SESSION.

Mrs. Donald Orewiler, South Main street, assisted by Miss Ruth Orewiler, was hostess last night to members of the Young Women's Missionary society of the Ontario Community church when Mrs. John Mabee led the devotions and Miss Thelma Shafer reviewed a chapter of the study book. There were two guests, Mrs. Flossie Williams and Miss Naomi Danals, present. Contest winners were Mrs. William Mabee, Miss Shafer and Mrs. Leo Mowry. The next meeting will be held April 4 with Mrs. Carl Smith, Bartley avenue, with Mrs. L. C. Stingel as associate hostess.

Complete Plans For Initiation Of Chi Sigmas

Further plans for formal initiation ceremonies for pledges of the Chi Sigma sorority were made yesterday evening when the active members of that group met for their regular business session at the Mansfield-Leland hotel. Miss Florence Nail, president of the organization, was in charge of the meeting.

It was announced that Mrs. Charlotte Perrin of Indianapolis, Ind., will be a guest of the sorority at that time. Mrs. Perrin is editor-in-chief of the "Chi Scribbler," monthly sorority publication. These initiation ceremonies will be held at the hotel on March 28, with Miss Wilma Snider in charge of arrangements. She will be assisted by the Misses Mary Strater, Mary Elizabeth Miller, Ruth Zelenka, Naomi Stutz, and Florence Nail.

The group also completed plans for their St. Patrick's benefit dance which will be an event of March 18 in the ballroom at the hotel, with Tommy Van's orchestra furnishing the music. There will be another regular business meeting of the sorority next Tuesday evening at the hotel.

* * *

PLAN SALE.

When members of the Delano auxiliary met last evening at Delano hall, they formulated plans for a bake sale to be held in the near future. The group played card games during the evening, and later luncheon was served. The next meeting of the auxiliary will be on March 21 at the hall.

Informally Speaking...

By MARIANNE

IT'S JUST ABOUT NOW—when spring is only a little way around the corner—that you eye your winter wardrobe with disdain and cast longing glances at that new spring ensemble. . . . But in spite of the fact that you really want a new spring suit or coat, chilling March winds and data about flu epidemics convince you that you wouldn't dare to venture forth in a lightweight suit or topper for at least another month.

* * *

So it would seem that at this particular season of the year milady would do best if she purchased a new spring dress to wear with her winter coat and brighten it up . . . and there are lots of pretty styles cut along the latest lines in all the new spring shades in the downtown shops.

* * *

IF YOU'RE a petit blond with blue eyes (and you can wear a size nine!) I saw the very dress for you yesterday. It's a jacket frock style of sky blue crepe fashioned along princess lines with a gored skirt. The top or blouse part of the dress is made from white organdy with tiny white daisies appliqued on it . . . and the girdle of the blue silk jacket fastens with crystal buttons of the same daisy motif. Perhaps the most unusual note of this costume, however, is the trim on the jacket—fluffy white lace held in place by dusky rose piping which borders the girdle, sleeves and collar . . . and a grosgrain ribbon bow of the same rose shade serves to hold the collar in place under the chin.

* * *

Once upon a time (not so many years ago) it was smart and stylish to have all accessories matching—or if you combined two colors, it was indeed necessary that they harmonized. . . . Ah, but this year is a new year—and to be perfectly groomed you should combine at least three colors . . . and Betty Hammel has done that very thing in one of her new spring outfits. . . . The silk crepe dress has a royal blue swing skirt with a chartreuse top. The extra jacket, which is of a novelty weave, is a cyclamen color—and then the chartreuse collar of the dress folds out over the bright jacket—making a smart tri-colored ensemble.

* * *

Do you knit—or just admire those who do? In either case you should be more than pleased with a surf colored two-piece dress which Martha Gale, noted stylist, designed for spring and summer wear. . . . The front of the skirt is pleated and the sleeves and neck of the blouse are trimmed with yellow yarn . . . but the buttons are the special feature of this dress—they trim the front of the blouse and are made from yellow balls of yarn with knitting needles sticking through the center!

* * *

BLACK seems always to be a favorite no matter what the season. Margaret McFadden has a new black crepe dress with a full skirt which falls in soft folds from the fitted hip line. Margaret's frock is topped with a pert swinging, detachable, quilted bolero jacket with a mandarin neckline. The smart new gypsy influence is introduced at the waist of this dress with a wide two-tone girdle of royal blue and cyclamen crepe—thus Margaret has a lot of important new features for spring combined in one dress—a high waist, quilted bolero, wide girdle and a three-color combination.

* * *

HOSIERY HIGHLIGHTS: It is important that you wear just the right shade of hosiery to off-set your new spring dress. . . . Suntan shades seem to be the most popular again this season, but they're somewhat brighter or lighter than last year—thus giving a slightly livelier effect that is in key with the clearer tones of this year's light, bright pastels as compared with last year's dusty ones.

* * *

ADDED ATTRACTIONS: To perk up your purse (and keep your nose shine proof) you'd better get one of those grand large-size compacts they're selling downtown now. These vanities are a combination of leather and wood with fine clear mirrors and large puffs—but the most important spring note on them is the bright flower painted panel on top—some of yellow daffodils and others, pink dogwood. . . . Better have one soon!

* * *

Note: The styles described above are available in Mansfield shops. You can learn where they may be obtained if you will telephone Marianne between 1 and 1:30 p. m.

Class Entertains With Dinner For 90, Program

Members of the March and April committees were in charge of the covered-dish dinner meeting of the Rain or Shine class of the South Main Street Evangelical church at which members of the St. Paul's class were entertained last night. Supper was served to 90 by Mrs. Amber Eberhardt, Mrs. J. H. Dir, Mrs. Ella Frontz, Mrs. Grace Campbell Mrs. Ira Hissong, Mrs. Argale Treisch, Mrs. Flora Harris, Mrs. Myrtle McCready and Mrs. Marjorie Ludwig.

A short business meeting was conducted by Mrs. C. M. Hunter, Rain or Shine class president, and Mrs. E. A. Rinehart led the devotions. A program was then presented by Mrs. A. A. Bellore who first presented Mrs. Dir who welcomed the guests. The response was read by L. C. Campbell president of the men's class.

Talks were given by both Mr. and Mrs. Hunter, Rev. C. L. Kern, W. G. Herrold and E. K. Tingley. Mrs. T. T. Haas, Wooster, former teacher of the class, also spoke. Vocal music was presented by Mary Jane Bellore and Don Kirkpatrick with Miss Pauline Statler accompanying.

Eugene Fritz then presented movies and a talk illustrating scenes in Canada, Niagara Falls and local incidents and scenes. The next regular meeting will be held May 2.

Re-elect Officers at Travelers' Club Meet

Mrs. Avery C. Hand was re-elected president of the Traveler's club for the next year, when members of that organization met at the Women's Club for 1 o'clock luncheon. Other officers re-elected were: Mrs. F. A. Voegele, first vice president; Mrs. W. L. Miller, second vice president; Mrs. E. R. Hartman, secretary; and Mrs. John L. Connors, treasurer.

Mrs. W. L. Miller was hostess for yesterday's meeting, and she also conducted the business session. The club members will hold their final meeting of the year on March 28 at the Women's Club with Mrs. H. T. Pritchard serving as hostess. Mrs. Lionel Miller will give a book review at that time.

PLAY BRIDGE.

There were seven tables in play yesterday at the home when members of the American Legion Bridge club were entertained by Mrs. Louis DeCamp. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Ralph Schad, Mrs. John Stentz, Mrs. Harvey Burghard and Mrs. Charles Condon. The next meeting will be March 21 with Mrs. Marion DeHart as hostess.

ALPHA PI SIGMA SETS SPRING DANCE DATE

Arrangements for Annual Function Made Last Night At Mansfield-Leland Hotel; Affair to Be Held April 29.

DURING the meeting of the Alpha Pi Sigma sorority last night at the Mansfield-Leland hotel first plans for the organization's annual dance were made. The affair will be held in the ballroom of the hotel April 29. Members of the committee include Mrs. Donald Snyder, Mrs. Alyce Vahar, Mrs. Charles Wilkinson, Miss Marvel Wiegand and Miss Marie Kalbfleisch.

April 18 was selected as the date for informal initiation. After the business session bridge was played at five tables, and Mrs. Ralph Andregg and Mrs. Vahar were the winners. Luncheon was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Richard Martin and Miss Marie Massa.

The next regular meeting of the sorority will be held at the hotel March 21. At this time the Misses Esther and Katherine Pfaff will be in charge of the social hour and bridge which will follow the business session.

HOSTESS TO CLASS.

Prizes were won by Evelyn Glessner, Thelma Southward, Bessie Hoover, and Mrs. Arthur Simpson yesterday at the meeting of the Alpha class of the Mayflower Congregational church at the home of Mrs. Ralph Bloom, 71 Wood street. There were six members and two guests, Ruth Yeagley and Tommy Bloom, present.

Plan Election At Session In April

Election of officers for the coming year will be conducted April 4 when members of the Dolly Madison club meet at the Mansfield-Leland hotel for the final session of the current season. Miss Lena Longsdorf, Mrs. George Cairns, Mrs. John Daley, Mrs. R. C. Boals, Mrs. Fern Berry Mrs. J. C. Edwards, Mrs. Florence Webber and Mrs. Jane Beelman will be the hostesses.

Last night in the Chinese room Marshall Moore, attorney, read a paper, "War in China," by Dr. Nettie Greer. Mrs. Boyd Wierman spoke on her recent trip to Florida and two piano solos were given by Marilee Sword. Mrs. Emma Young, president, reported briefly on the Federation of Women's clubs convention which was held in Columbus early this year.

Hostesses were Mrs. Cliff Mitchell, Mrs. W. W. Wierman, Mrs. Boyd Wierman, Mrs. J. F. Elliott, Mrs. Lee Beveridge, Mrs. Olive Walker, Mrs. Bessie Leap and Mrs. J. W. Kennedy.

Mrs. Cook Gives Talk Before Audubon Club

"Grassroot Jungles" was the title of the paper on insect life given by Mrs. Van Cook yesterday at the Women's Club when Mrs. Walter Ober entertained members of the Audubon club. She was followed by Mrs. Hugh Clark who spoke on the English sparrow. One new member was welcomed.

Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Oliver Frey and Mrs. Carl Torrence were named to the nominating committee. The next regular session will be April 4 with Mrs. Henry Paulson, 510 Beechwood drive, in charge.

Serve Dinner to Club at Memorial Building

Following the meeting of the Marquis Sewing circle during the afternoon, members of the Auxiliary to the Charles Dick tent, were served a 6 o'clock dinner by Mrs. Louise Shade and her daughter, Myrtle. A routine business meeting was conducted, and it was announced that an all-day quilting would be held at the Memorial building March 16.

The auxiliary is planning to entertain at a public St. Patrick's tea March 21 at the hall. Cards and other games will be played between the hours of 2 and 5 p. m.

Jealousy Ruins Life

"DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

"It is strange to me that I cannot control the jealousy which, I realize, has ruined my life. I married when very young, and submitted my husband to violent scenes if he even spoke to a woman. Also I nagged him to leave his office, where a number of women were employed, to take an interior job in an office where there was none. His health failed. He suffered a nervous breakdown and died in a sanitarium a year later.

"I married again, thinking I had had my lesson and could control my jealousy. It was no matter. My second husband, after five years in which he tried to cure me of what he called "mental sickness, urged me to get a divorce. He was very decent about it and allowed me to sue on the grounds of mental cruelty, when I knew only too well the cruelty had been mine. I did not marry again, though I had several chances. I decided to live with my daughter by my first marriage. Her husband agreed to this.

"Of course, this could not go on. I realized that even as I undermined my position in my daughter's home. My son-in-law came to me one day and told me he had paid the entrance fee of $500 in a certain church home, where the ladies were made extremly comfortable. I begged and entreated, even agreed not to see the children and keep to my own room. But my son-in-law was adamant, and here I am in this institution.

"With a certain amount of relief I thought that the jealousy which has ruined my life would leave me here. There would be no one of whom I could be jealous But again began this plotting and planning to be first—to get the matron on my side, to be approved of by the chaplain and the board of managers I suppose I am too old to change Do you think I would get any benefit by consulting a psychiatrist? UNHAPPY"

Jealousy such as you describe is as malignant as cancer, and like cancers of long duration such jealousies may be "inoperable." From your letter, not all of which is given here, it seems to me you haven't really tried to conquer this fault which has been your undoing.

It seems to me that any real help must come from your own efforts, to control a jealousy which you are capable of diagnosing and realizing in full its evil influence. You have my sincere sympathy.

An attractive glaze for fruit tarts may be made by melting jelly in a double boiler and pouring it over the top of the fruit-filled tarts The tarts then should be chilled until serving time. It usually is best to use a jelly that is the same color as the filling in the tarts Plum or currant jelly, for instance, may be used for strawberry or raspberry tarts while a light apple jelly will be better for apricot, peach or pineapple-filled tarts.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

"You are sure she has no suspicion that you were the young officer of the guard who loved her so long ago?" I queried, sparring for time.

"I am positive," he returned. "That was one reason I grew these damnable things," touching with disdainful fingers his moustache and Vandyke beard, features which gave him an undeniable individual distinction and which had attracted many fascinated feminine eyes. "I knew that she never would recognize me behind them. Then, too, my hair is no longer black as it was when she knew me, and I am—of course—heavier than the slim boy who laid his heart at her feet.

"I took care in those first years of exile to break completely with my old world. The few who knew my secret would never have revealed it to Olga, of all people, for they knew that after her marriage to Rudolph, thus putting an irrevocable barrier between us, I would have died rather than bring her the unhappiness of futile memories.

"So Philip Schaumbein died—how I detested that name! It was the one gleam of light in the whole tragedy that I need never bear it again—and as far as Olga knew, until she came to America on that trip, Philip Veritzen had never been born Then she met me as a rich man, one of the committee who welcomed her, and a man who later interested himself in her favorite charities. Later still she knew me as the man who arranged her escape, but I fear that she has some Quixotic idea in her head that she must not be dependent upon my charity. I confess I do not know how to approach her."

There was real bewilderment in his tones, and I put down with an iron hand my astonished amusement at his diffidence

"You have asked me for advice," I said finally, "and naturally I am much flattered. But, frankly, I do not see how I am going to advise you unless I know a little more about your own reaction to what you are going to do. May I put a blunt question to you?"

Still Love Her?

"Of course," he answered quickly.

"Why are you asking the queen to marry you? Is it because you still love her; that you never have ceased to love her?"

There was a flash of his old theatrical gallantry in his answer and for the moment I hated him for it

"You ought to know, better than anyone else," he said, speaking low tones as if Ottc could hear, "that her immage was not always predominant in my mind."

"Fiddlesticks!" I said with purposed rudeness. "If you are referring to the emotion you once professed to feel for me, let me tell you now that I always knew it for what it was, a feeling ephemeral, born of your unstable temperament, a feeling which you have duplicated many times in your life. But from what you have told me today, I deduce that Queen Olga's image has never been absent from your heart, not even during your marriage to Noel's mother."

"You are right," he said at last, heavily, "but, thank God! Noel's gentle mother never suspected the truth and did not live long enough to find it out as I fear she eventually would have. I never have ceased to love Olga, but whether I still love her as I once did—ah! that's a question that is puzzling me."

THEATERS

ARTHUR TREACHER leaves his butling for a role as an English aristocrat in "Maiden Voyage" in which Annabella, Robert Young, Walter Connolly and Reginald Owen have major roles This is an M-G-M comedy revolving around a young man who forgot to marry his fiancee and almost married the wrong girl when he turned up at the wrong wedding. . . . A typical Kansas farm was rebuilt for "The Wizard of Oz" production. . . . For the third time within a year Walter Pidgeon and Leo Carilla will appear in a picture together when they go to work in "Penthouse" with Virginia Bruce. They were both in "Girl of the Golden West" and in "Too Hot to Handle."

* * *

Second Blondie Picture.

Blondie, Dagwood and Baby Dumpling are in another mess in "Blondie Meets the Boss," second in the new Blondie series. The series bids fair to be one of the most popular of this popular form of screen entertainment. Penny Singleton and Arthur Lake are perfectly suited to the characters which first came to life in the newspaper cartoon strip The double-feature bill at the Madison also includes "Arizona Legion" for the last three days of the week Today the theater is given over to the popular radio-stage show, Renfro Valley Barn Dance, which shows here for one day only and brings the famous WLW characters to Mansfield followers

* * *

Huck Is Popular.

It looks as if "Huckleberry Finn" will draw sufficiently to warrant holding it over through Friday. The Mark Twain story plus the Mickey Rooney personality are doing the trick. The regeneration of a boy who played hookey, smoked corncob pipes and refused to wear shoes makes an interesting yarn and ends with the boy still smoking, going without his shoes, and, one presumes, continues to fish instead of attend classes The Ohio is showing "Huck."

* * *

Ginger Rogers at Park.

Have you ever written "Having a Wonderful Time" on your vacation post cards? This is the title of the Ginger Rogers-Douglas Fairbanks picture which is one of the Park attractions tomorrow and the rest of the week Girl goes on a dreamed-of vacation and meets boy—and then the title. Red Skelton, Mansfield stage and radio star, is a featured player. The second film is Robert Donat's early picture, "39 Steps." Madeliene Carroll is opposite him.

* * *

Tragic Romance.

Because of the length of "Marie Antoinette," only one feature film is on the current Ritz bill. One of the 10 best pictures of the year and one of those nominated for consideration of the Academy award, this dramatic and tragic historical film gives to film followers the story of the little princess who became empress of France and whose lovely head rolled in the dust when citizens turned against her Norma Shearer and Tyrone Power play the tragic queen and the man who loved her.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

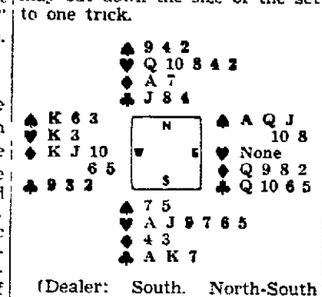
By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

YOU MUST SET IT TWO

If your side has chosen to double your vulnerable opponents, instead of making a game which you feel is in the cards for your side, a one-trick set is a losing proposition. You must set the enemy two tricks to get a result as good as or better than your own not-vulnerable game would have been.

It is up to you then to keep your eyes open to protect yourself against a lead-throwing end play or some other canny dodge which may cut down the size of the set to one trick.



(Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.)

At two tables of a tournament, South opened this deal with 1-Heart, West bid 2-Diamonds, North 2-Hearts. One West now saw fit to bid 4-Spades and the other preferred to double his vulnerable opponents at 4-Hearts.

Where East played spades, South led the club K, switched to the heart A, which was ruffed, East ran three trumps and lost two more tricks, to the diamond A and club A, making his contract for a score of 120 in tricks, 300 game bonus, total 120 points.

At the heart table, South ruffed the third round of spades, lost the second trump round to West and the diamond K knocked out the A. Declarer played a couple of other trumps, then led the diamond 7 from dummy. When East played the Q, that made the last trick his side could get, for he had to choose between giving declarer a ruff and discard on a spade or diamond lead; or lead from his club Q Had East been canny, he could have seen this situation when the diamond was led. He should have played low in the hope that his partner had the diamond J. If West did not, the declarer would have made nothing but a trick he would get anyway, for then he would have had to lose a club trick by leading the suit himself.

HOROSCOPE

For Thursday, March 9.

A perplexing day, with some adverse configurations, is found in the ruling aspects. There may be peculiar or strained relations on the sentimental, domestic or social side of life, with much to overcome by patience and tact. Hard work may be required to move happily in all directions. It is probable that there may be distractions from workaday activity by anxiety in the purely private affiliations.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves confornted by a year calling for restraint, patience, persistency and diplomacy to wrest harmony and happiness from certain harrassing or adverse conditions These latter are mainly in the social, domestic or romantic relations.

A child born on this day may have a rather difficult disposition, with many conflicting sides. While inclined to be industrious and steady, it also may be restless, tempestuous and indulgent.

Tomorrow's Problem.

Sports, Westies Battle for City League Title Tonight

Store Quint Choice

By CHARLES MARTIN

SPARKS are expected to fly in all directions tonight when the City Class A basketball league championship is decided on the Mansfield high planks.

The tussle brings together the defending championship Yuncker Sports and the Westinghouse Electrics, and, judging from past performances the Sports hold a slight edge.

Holds Scoring Edge.

Yuncker's smooth-working machine holds an advantage in scoring power, but whether it will be able to match the Westies' fast-breaking attack is a question.

Tonight's championship affair will be preceded by a tussle between the Elks Lodge team and an all star aggregation from the Friendly House Senior A league. The program is scheduled to get underway at 7 o'clock.

The Sportsmen, who tallied 55 points against the Herrick Hi-Speeds recently to set a new team single game record, will be at full strength for the game.

The Westies and Sports clashed twice this season with each taking a decision. In registering their triumph, the Electrics halted the Sports' spectacular 14-game winning streak in City league competition.

Manager Jimmy Breres, who recently added Bob Burgett, Butler high coach, to his lineup, will probably start Al Stickler and LaVerne Gray at the forward berths, Johnny Reese at center and Harold Hayfer and Freddie Lewis, at the guard posts. Gray, Reese and Stickler were three of the leading individual scorers during the regular season.

Elks Play All-Stars.

The preliminary melee will see some of the outstanding Senior league players in action against Tom Farrell and company. Mike Wentz of the Friendly House has not announced his selection, but the club should give the Elks an interesting evening.

Supporting Farrell, City league individual scoring champion, will be Orville Kibler, Ontario high coach, Noel Morgan, Jack Miner, Gene Zediker and Gervis Brady.

The contests tonight will bring the City league schedule to a close.

BOSTON BRUINS CINCH NATIONAL HOCKEY TITLE

(By International News Service)

For the third time in 10 years the National Hockey league championship belonged today to the Boston Bruins who clinched it mathematically by blanking the Detroit Red Wings 3 to 0 before a crowd of 10,000 in Boston Garden With the league championship also went the Prince of Wales trophy

Bowlers Get Ready to Maul Pins In Cleveland

READY, AIM, FIRE! When that signal is given by the official starter Thursday, no less than 32 glistening bowling balls will zoom down as many alleys in the city's underground exposition hall, go smacko into 320 gleaming tenpins and the world's greatest mass sports event, the American Bowling Congress, will be under way.

Some 23,000 bowlers from the United States and Canada will converge on Cleveland for the classic of the alleys. They'll have 58 consecutive days to shoot for prizes which will total more than $180,000 for singles, doubles, all-events and team totals.

There will be 4,145 five-man teams, 8,200 doubles entries and 17,441 individual starters, all shooting for glory and pin money in the toughest of all keglng conclaves. Mansfield will send 14 teams to Cleveland

Not as Many Entries.

The entry list is a mite smaller than last year when 24,785 individuals from 675 cities aimed at the tenpins, praying for strike after strike The 1938 tourney was in Chicago

'Tis a far cry today from the early days of the A. B. C. The first tourney, in 1901, drew the grand total of 115 individuals, 41 five-man teams and 72 doubles competitors

Official scorers for the tourney are receiving last-minute instructions and W. C Everhardt of Pekin, Ill., inventor of the electrical score correction system in use at the tourney, is putting the finishing touches on his intricate setup to correct faults in scoring.

A crew of 72 carpenters and electricians have been working for weeks on the new alleys. A grandstand, seating 2,800, is completed. A special mural series lines the huge scoreboard, each mural depicting an advance in the history of bowling from the Stone Age onward

Favorites Back.

Many of the favorites of yesterday, former champions and defending titleholders are entered again this year. Among these are Louis Stein of New York, one of the founders of the A B C; Charley Warren of Springfield, Ill., Gene Gaghardi of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., who will roll this year with a San Antonio, Tex., team; Max Stein of Belleville, Ill.; Don Beatty of Jackson, Mich; Jimmy Smith of New York, Charley Daw of Milwaukee, Hank Marino of Milwaukee, Frank Benkovic, also of Milwaukee; Andy Varipapa, the trick-shot star; Ora Mayer of San Francisco, and Joe Bodis of Cleveland. Many prominent in other field are entered, among them Wisconsin's governor, Julius Heil

The team winners of last year, the Birk Brothers of Chicago, will roll April 8 with the same lineup that cracked the five-man mark last year New Jersey has 112 teams entered New York has 570 Ohio has 1,620 teams, of which 679 are from Cleveland.

As in the past, team members will roll their singles and doubles the day after they have shot for the $1,000 team award

While every bowler will be shooting for the perfect game, only five 300 games have been rolled in 38 years of pounding by hundreds of thousands of bowlers. That's how tough it is in this tourney. The winner in the team event last year, Chicago's Birk Brothers Brewing company, holds the team record with 3,234 pins.

Lucas Sports Best Record

Meets Arcadia at Carey Friday Night.

Lucas high's fast-stepping cage machine roars back into action in the District Class B tournament at Carey Friday night sporting the best point-making record of any of the teams remaining in the semi-finals.

Coach Alfred Axe's proteges, who waded through the county tourney and advanced to the semi-finals of the district playoffs, in five straight victories, have chalked up 196 points. The total gives the team an average of 39 points per contest.

The Cubs tackle the dangerous Arcadia high combine of Hancock county in the semi-final contest at 8 o'clock. Arcadia, which drew a first-round bye, chalked up 12 wins against five defeats during the regular season

The Hancock county team defeated Salem in a second round affair. The team possesses its share of height, but will have a job in matching the brilliant scoring punch of the Lucas outfit

While Lucas has been in the spotlight by virtue of its scoring ability, the team's great defensive work has played an important part in the triumphs

The stout Lucas zone defense has limited the opposition to 137 points, an average of 27 points a game. The Cubs have set their rivals down with 11 goals per tussle

Carey high and Harpster clash in the second semi-final game Friday night

Bucks To Compete In N.C.A.A. Meet

CHICAGO —(AP)— Ohio State university, Western conference cage champion, has been picked to compete in the N. C. A. A. sectional basketball tournament at Philadelphia as the entrant from the Fourth district, which includes Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota and Iowa.

Coach H. G. Olson of Ohio said that while "we appreciate the honor and our boys are anxious to compete" the university's athletic board must decide whether to permit the Bucks to enter.

Teams from four districts east of the Mississippi will compete at Philadelphia March 17 and 18. Representatives of four districts west of the Mississippi clash meanwhile at San Francisco

The two winners will battle for the N. C. A. A. title March 27 at Northwestern university.

Pickard Shoots Ace, But Loses Match

CORAL GABLES, Fla.—(UP)—Sam Snead and Ralph Guldahl meet Horton Smith and Paul Runyan today in the 36-hole title round of the $5,000 international four-ball golf championship, and the best way to pick a winner is to toss a coin

The gallery yesterday saw the first ace in the 16-year-history of the four ball when Henry Picard holed his tee shot at the 165-yard second Picard and Johnny Revolta bowed 1 up to Runyan and Smith.

Snead and Guldahl lagged most of the way, being one down to Lawson Little and Tony Manero after the morning 18 but they kept plugging and a 15-foot putt by Snead on the 23rd squared the match, and they never were behind thereafter.

ONTARIO CAGERS FACE GALION CLUB SATURDAY

The Ontario Sohioans will engage the Galion North Electrics in the headline game on a basketball program to be staged at Ontario high school Saturday night. The Sohioans defeated the Marion Commercial Motors, 69 to 50, last week.

The Ontario Ex-Hys meet the Blue Goose Sohioans of the Friendly House Senior league in the preliminary tilt.

Bowser In Line For Jock's Job

PITTSBURGH — (U.P.) —Stock in the chances of Charles W. Bowser to become football coach at the University of Pittsburgh hit a new high today when Athletic Director James Hagan admitted they have conferred over the job.

It was denied, however, that the talks progressed to the point of discussing salary for the successor of Dr. John Bain Sutherland.

Settlement Boxers Win At Marion

Glover, Carbetta Advance In Golden Gloves Tourney.

The two Friendly House mittsters entered in the annual Golden Gloves boxing tournament at Marion came through with flying colors in opening round bouts at Marion last night.

Beauford Glover and Paul Carbetta are the leather slingers, and the style in which they performed marks them as serious title contenders in their respective division.

Glover, who has been idle from ring wars for several months, returned to the battle front with a display of his former punching power.

He met Darrell Smith of Marion and was awarded the decision on a technical knockout in one minute and 43 seconds of the opening round. The referee stopped the fight with Smith hanging on the ropes.

Carbetta ran into trouble against Frankie Dolce, 109, Crestline, but emerged with the decision after three thrilling rounds. Carbetta, the defending flyweight champion in the tourney, held a three-pound weight advantage over Dolce.

Eddie Tally, 112, of Crestline, who defeated Carbetta on the Friendly House annual indoor A. A. U. indoor show recently, remained in the running for Carbetta's crown by winning last night.

Glover, lightweight knockout artist, who returned recently from Crestline to work out under Trainer Bus Doehla, seems to have regained his stride. The youngster has been on the sidelines because of training injuries.

League Closes Sked Thursday

Senior Loop Race In Doubt; Farms Head Parade.

The second and final round of the Senior A league schedule will be brought to a close at the Friendly House Thursday night.

Just how the race will end is a matter of conjecture, although the Raemelton Farm club is setting the pace today It is possible for the title race to expire in a four-way tie.

The Farmers hold a one-game lead over the Rex Billiards, first half champs. Musille Cigars, Blue Goose Sohioans and Miller Dairys, who are tied for second place.

It is possible for any three of these second place teams to gain a share of the lead if the Farmers are repulsed Thursday night.

The Raemelton club meets the Miller Dairys in the final game at 8 45 p m. Thursday. The Rex Billiards meet the cellar Augustine Canfields in the middle game, with the Sohioans and Musille Cigars opening the program at 6:45 p. m.

The winners of the first and second half titles will stage a play-off later this month to determine the league champion. Mike Wentz, supervisor of the league, announced today.

SHELBY ALLEYS PLAN HEADPIN TOURNAMENT

A headpin tournament for bowlers in the north central Ohio district will be held at the Ferguson bowling alleys in Shelby this month. Bill Ferguson, owner of the alleys, announced today The tournament will open Friday, March 10 and continue until March 21.

Each participant will bowl two games, with the high single score counting in the standings. Ferguson guarantees a $25 prize list fund. Bowlers may roll as often as they wish.

BOB SALTZGABER SETS PACE IN TROOP SHOOT

Bob Saltgaber set the individual pace for the American Legion Boy Scout rifle match at the Y. M. C. A. last night. Saltzgaber hit at 201 total to top his nearest rival, Bob Houk by 12 points, for honors.

Plays In City

CHUCK CHUCKOVITS

Chuckovits to Bring Team To High School for Game Wednesday, March 15.

CHUCK CHUCKOVITS, Ohio's most publicized basketball star, will come to the city Wednesday, March 15, to display his scoring prowess.

Negotiations for the appearance of the great Toledo university player were completed early today by Vern Jones, president of the City league, which will sponsor the exhibition at Mansfield high school

Chuckovits, who is the nation's intercollegiate scoring leader, will bring an all-star team composed of former Toledo university teammates.

Chuckovits will complete his spectacular college career Saturday night when the Rockets play Loyola at Chicago.

He will open his exhibition tour the following day in Dayton, and, according to the present schedule, will make his second appearance in Mansfield.

Tribe to Stand Pat on Lineup

Calls Off Negotiations; Webb Expected to Start at Shortstop.

NEW ORLEANS—(U P)—C. C Slapnicka, vice president of the Cleveland Indians declared today that all trade negotiations for infield talent were off and that his team would stand pat unless other clubs upped their offers.

His statement quieted reports of imminent trades with the St. Louis Browns and Detroit Tigers and was considered a virtual assignment of the shortstop position of Jimmy Webb. Lyn Lary, who held down the post last year, still is a holdout along with Outfielder Earl Averill, Catcher Frankie Pytlak, and two others

If Webb is to play short, this leaves second base a fight between the veteran Sammy Hale and Rookie Oscar Grimes, who starred with the Milwaukee Brewers of the American Association last year.

Dykes Picks Lineup For Pasadena Game.

PASADENA, Calif. — Manager Jimmy Dykes picked two White Sox rookies today for the starting lineup Sunday against the Pasadena Sox. He named Second Baseman Eric McNair and Catcher Tony Rensa. Other starters include Outfielders Rip Radcliff, Henry Steinbacher and Mike Kreevich and Infielders Marvin Owen, Joe Kuhel, and Luke Appling.

SAN BERNADINO, Cal — After six days of training in almost perfect weather, Manager Pie Traynor of the Pittsburgh Pirates decided today that his hardest job so far has been to keep his pitchers and catchers from working toward the top too rapidly. It is one of the few breaks he has had with the weather, and he said: "This is absolutely the finest conditioned group of pitchers and catchers we've ever had at camp in California. This year we've had our share of weather, and look what it's done for us."

ORLANDO, Fla.—The Washington Senators were 100 per cent under contract today. The only holdout, Buddy Myer, came to terms after a conference with Clark Griffith, Nat owner, last night. Griffith said Myer's brilliant season in 1938 when he batted .336 earned him a "substantial increase."

Hubbell's Arm Still Question Mark.

BATON ROUGE, La.—Carl Hubbell's arm still is a question mark, but Giant Manager Bill Terry is encouraged by his easy motion in batting practice The "meal ticket" worked 15 minutes yesterday, and although it didn't bear down, he had plenty of control It was the first time he had pitched for batting practice since his operation last August, and he said afterwards, "my elbow felt better than in several years My shoulder was a little sore, but it just needs work" Outfielder Joe Moore signed his contract yesterday leaving Burgess Whitehead the only absentee accounted for.

He's Good, Too.

KINGSTON, R. I.—(AP)—Chet Jaworski, Rhode Island State center, today held the new intercollegiate basketball scoring record for a season with a total of 177 points in 21 games.

The previous record, 465 points, was established by Hank Luisetti, playing with Stanford.

EDDIE SIMMS WINS

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Eddie Simms, 194, defeated Dan Merritt, 184½, in a ten round main bout here last night. Both are Clevelanders. Marty Simmons, 168, Saginaw, Mich., won from Eddie Saxon, 163½, Syracuse, in 10 rounds, and Johnny Romero, 168½, Los Angeles defeated Willie Muldune, 174, Cleveland, in eight

Murphy Refuses to Be Fooled By Tyger Foe's Season Record

HOLDING the attention of the Mansfield high school hoopsters this week is a game with Willard, not Bellevue or Fremont Ross, other semi-finalists in the district tourney

Mansfield is being conceded a victory over Willard in the semi-finals in the basketball tournament in Sandusky Friday night, but Coach Russ Murphy has not accepted the triumph.

Not that the Tyger tactician wouldn't mind having the victory handed to his team on a silver platter, but he doesn't figure it is going to be so easy to dispose of the Crimson Flashes.

Murphy actually is fearful of the outcome of the tussle Friday "The semi-final game is usually always the toughest in tournament play," Murphy said today. "The finals always take care of themselves."

"A team which reaches the semi-finals after winning from a couple of foes is sometimes overconfident, especially when the players are being told that their next opponent is a set-up," the Mansfield coach continued

He recalled that the Tygers had all they could do to take Willard into camp last year, winning by only a four-point margin. Mansfield took Dave Query's team into camp by an eight-point margin this season.

Murphy was also somewhat concerned today over the condition of Jake Lyons, stellar guard, who is ill with the "flu." Lyons is expected to be ready for Friday, however.

The Tygers meet Willard in the first semi-final game at 7:30 p. m. Friday, with Bellevue, pre-tournament favorite engaging Fremont, this year's "dark horse," at 8:45.

Bowling

JACK APPLAN of the Foremen's team of the Mansfield Tire league slapped out a 624 total to set the scoring pace at the Meder Recreation alleys last night. Bill Fenn of the Main Office No. 1 came through with a 614, and Bart Haley socked out a 613 as he led the Tire Store to the high team total of 2780.

Harold Lemunyon hit 618 in the Mixed Doubles league, and Mary McMullen led the feminine scoring with a 514, opening with a 203. Hugo Brannon of the CCC club of the Freight league rolled a 604.

Russell Loses To Cleo McNeil

By OSCAR RUHL, News-Journal Sports Editor.

MATCHMAKER FRED NOLAN, 21-year-old son of Tim, promoter of the Quality club, took a harder punch on the chin than any of the losers on last night's boxing show at the Armory.

Young Nolan staged a "flopperoo" in his attempt to revive professional boxing interest in the city, but it was not entirely his fault.

In fact, Nolan built the structures for some fine fights last night, but nothing out of the ordinary occurred.

And, in addition (and this wasn't Nolan's fault), only $102 was paid at the box office by Mansfield citizens to see the first fistic presentation in about a year.

Suffers First Loss.

The meager crowd did not witness a great deal of excitement, but they did see the Ohio lightweight king suffer his first defeat in the pro ring.

Champion Willie Russell of Columbus lost on a technical knockout to Cleo McNeil of Los Angeles, Barberton and other points in the fourth stanza of their scheduled 10-round bout. Fortunately, the title was not at stake as McNeill came in over the specified weight limit.

Russell was counted out while he was standing in his corner by Referee Clarence Miller of Newark.

The colored champion suffered a severe cut under his right optic when he was butted on the cheek by McNeil in a clinch in the third heat, and his handlers refused to permit him to continue.

Their refusal to let Russell resume fighting cannot be questioned as an examination in the dressing room revealed a bad cut an inch wide directly under the eye.

Russell held a slight edge over McNeil when the fight was halted.

McNeil tipped the scales at 137 pounds, while Southpaw Russell weighed in two pounds lighter.

Just as clever as ever, Lloyd Pine, 131-pound Akron star, knocked out Jose Fernandez, 130, a Cuban of Fairmont, W. Va., in the third round. The Cuban was a willing customer, but he didn't have any more business in the ring with Pine than one of the Our Gang boys.

Winning all the way, Pine clipped the dark-skinned lad on the kisser with a left and then came back with a husky right to end the proceedings. Fernandez still wobbled when he left the ring.

The first of the three 10-rounders on last night's card was the only one which went the distance, and it was not exactly a spectacular battle.

Brown Beats Mexican.

Penna Ranzola, a Mexican middleweight of Las Vegas, and Jimmy Brown, colored, of Canton, were the principals, and the latter received Referee Miller's nod at the conclusion of the fracas.

Brown threw too many gloves for the Mexican, who was dropped for a three-count in the second round. Ranzola was a courageous boy, and came back strong after the knockdown, but Brown won the decision by a good-sized margin.

Mansfield amateurs, Ike and Mike, a couple of colored boys, and John (the one with the red sweater—the winner) and Pete opened the program with exhibitions.

Whether or not Nolan will make another attempt to revive boxing interest in the city was not definite last night.

MEAD AGREES TO SEND HENRY AGAINST AMBERS

NEW YORK—(INS)—Eddie Mead, manager of Henry Armstrong, has accepted a fight with Lou Ambers in which Armstrong will defend his lightweight championship.

Mead notified the New York Athletic commission he and Armstrong will be in New York next Tuesday to sign papers. No date was mentioned but it was believed today Mike Jacobs will make a summer outdoor attraction out of it for New York.

Budge missed the train Monday night at Montreal where he ended his series with Ellsworth Vines and rode to New York in the truck that brought his equipment. He said the 11 hours on the road were a "lot of fun."

KENYON TO CONSTRUCT $143,000 FIELD HOUSE

GAMBIER — (U.P) — Plans for construction of a $143,000 field house, a football field with permanent stands and development of an outdoor athletic center were underway today at Kenyon college.

The improvements call for an unannounced outlay of cash which is expected to be financed by alumni gifts, according to the development committee of Dean Gilbert Hoag, athletic director Rudy Kutler and building superintendent W. E. Becker.

PAM—The District Attorney! By A. W. Brewerton

SCENE: THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY'S OFFICE. — DAVID FACES THE D. A. HIMSELF
SHE WAS FOUND, IN A FAINT, NOT TEN FEET FROM THE VICTIM — HER FINGERPRINTS ARE ON THE GUN, FOUND ON THE FLOOR NOT FAR AWAY — NO ONE COULD HAVE ENTERED GALTMAN'S PRIVATE OFFICE EXCEPT THROUGH HER OFFICE — HIS OUTER DOOR WAS LOCKED — AND SHE ADMITS HERSELF THAT NO ONE HAD COME IN — THAT HE WAS ALONE!
I APPRECIATE YOUR FEELINGS — I ADMIRE YOUR ABILITY AS AN ABLE INVESTIGATOR — BUT — I CANNOT DELAY LONGER! — IT'S MY DUTY TO ASK FOR AN INDICTMENT AGAINST CLARE GORDON — AND I INTEND TO DO SO — TODAY!
WE GRANT ALL YOU SAY IS TRUE, MR. ATTORNEY — I'LL EVEN TELL YOU IT WAS PROBABLY HER GUN! — BUT IT'S ALL CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE! — I'LL STAKE MY PROFESSIONAL REPUTATION ON THIS — MY SISTER WAS FRAMED!

STOCKS REACH NEW HIGHS FOR YEAR IN SPURT

American Telephone and Rails Push Ahead to New Marks; Business Encourages.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—The stock market climbed another notch today in a resumption of the recent slow-moving advance.

Some stocks, including American Telephone, went to top prices for the year or longer under persistent buying.

The highest price recorded this year were paid for Electric Auto Lite, Greyhound, National Biscuit, Public Service of New Jersey, Deere, U. S. Rubber Preferred, Sears Roebuck and National Dairy.

More pronounced was the early spring revival in bonds. Rails, especially, pushed ahead to best levels of the new year upswing. Commodities were uneven.

A continued rise in the London Security markets impressed Wall Street.

Brokers with a leaning to the constructive side of the market stressed: Chances of spring business improvement, especially in building, and modification in Sec regulations governing the security markets.

posed extensions needed throughout the city as well as trunk sewers.

The state department of health has called for the survey repeatedly in the past few years and twice has turned down extensions in the system because of the lack of a planned program.

Preliminary work on the survey has been under way in the engineering department for the past six months but has been retarded because of the lack of funds to hire the necessary personnel.

Council also approved an appropriation of $360 and authorized Nist to enter into a contract with James R. Collier of Elyria for technical services at the sewage disposal plant for a period of six months.

Collier has been retained by the city as sewage technician since the treatment plant was opened three years ago and has made semi-monthly inspection trips here in accordance with his contract which expired March 1.

Under the new contract approved by the state department of health Collier will be required to make only one inspection a month for a six-months period after which time city officials expect that Supt. James R. Turner will be certified by the state department to handle the plant without any supervision.

POLICE TO GET NEW CYCLE FOR TRAFFIC DUTY

Council Okays Purchase of 3-Wheel Vehicle, Truck for Garbage Division.

The police department is going to get a new three-wheeled motorcycle to replace the sidecar unit that is being used to enforce the parking regulations in downtown Mansfield.

This was assured last night when city council approved the transfer of $475 in the general fund to purchase the machine, and authorized the sale of the present equipment along with a 10-year-old patrol wagon.

Council also authorized an appropriation of $500 from the garbage fund for the purchase of a new garbage truck for a sum not to exceed $2,600.

Service-Safety Director Earl A. Nist explained that $2,100 had been set up in the annual appropriations bill for the purchase of new equipment and that the additional $500 was necessary to buy a truck similar to the modern closed vehicle purchased two years ago.

He explained that the $500 was to be taken from the $1,900 recently approved by the common pleas court for transfer from the surplus in the can deposit fund.

Nist pointed out that the purchase of the new motorcycle would be made immediately because the purchase is under the $500 limit which does not require him to advertise for bids on the machine.

Enabling legislation provides for the sale of the present motorcycle and sidecar for a sum of not less than $160 and the old patrol wagon for a sum of not less than $100.

Accepts Second High Bid.

Today the city board of control announced that it had awarded the contract for a truck to be used by the street department to the Reo Sales and Service company, 70 North Diamond street, on the firm's second high bid of $1,364.73.

The contract calls for the delivery to the city of a 1939 model Reo truck of 1½ ton capacity dump body and hydraulic hoist.

The successful bidder, H. W. Wentz, quoted a price of $314 higher than the low bid of $1,050 submitted by the Mohican Chevrolet company.

Other bids entered were $1,150 by R. E. Moorhead, $1,282.60 by Colby and Earick, $1,135 by Swisher and Schafer, $1,350 by Ingraham and Martin, and $1,447.46 by G. L. Rogers.

Service-Safety Director Earl A. Nist said the Reo truck was purchased on the recommendations of D. D. Orewiler, superintendent of streets.

GIVES VERDICT

Coroner Says Exposure Cause of F. G. Agerter's Death.

A verdict of death due to exposure was returned today by Coroner Hugh Winbigler in the death of Frank G. Agerter, 55, of 71 North Willis street, whose body was found in the alley at the rear of the G. and H. Supply company, 131 East Fifth street, early Tuesday. The coroner said Mr. Agerter had been dead about six hours when found.

Mr. Agerter was born in Tiffin, March 7, 1883, and came to Mansfield about 30 years ago. Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Frank Distl of Mansfield; a son, Arthur of Mansfield; five brothers, Albert, William, Edward, Fred and Harry of Tiffin, and a sister, Minnie, of Tiffin.

Funeral services will be held at the Wappner funeral home at 1 p. m. Thursday in charge of elders of the Christian Apostolic church. Burial will be held in the Mansfield cemetery.

NOTES THREATEN SOCIETY GIRLS

Crudely-Fashioned Letters Sent To Philadelphia Families.

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Two debutante daughters of families prominent in Philadelphia society were described today as having been threatened by crudely-fashioned extortion notes sent to the families.

Dr. Francis R. Packard, physician and authority on medical history, said he had received two notes demanding money under threat of physical violence to his attractive, 19-year-old daughter, Frances.

ISSUE REPORT

Visiting Nurses Handle 140 Cases, Community Fund Told.

The Visiting Nurses Association handled 140 cases in the city during the past month, according to their report to the Community Fund today.

Of these, 80 were new cases admitted during the month. A total of 534 visits to homes and hospitals in the interests of their cases were made by the four nurses who make up the association's staff. The report also included 11 deliveries and 17 pre-natal cases admitted for care and instructions.

AVERTS LAY-OFF OF 400 ON WPA

Transfer of Flood Control Workers to Other Projects Assures Them of Jobs.

county's revived road program until the city project is under way, officials said.

The program approved last night by city council calls for a $33,000 extension in the water distribution system and a renewal of the city-wide curb and gutter replacement project to cost $32,483.

Council also approved a transfer of $600 to finance the city's share of the flood control project now under way in the city.

The major slash in the flood control project rolls will be on the Possum run ditch job where the number of workers will be reduced from 350 to 50, Hursh said.

The 150 men who will be retained on the flood project will be employed primarily on the Ritter's run dredging project and the Possum run ditch job, he added. A project for construction of a storm sewer in Lincoln Heights, employing about 50 men, will be completed in about a month and the men transferred to other jobs.

5 Streets To Get New Mains.

The extensions in the city water system represent the 1939 improvement program and include the laying of new mains on five city streets.

The project calls for the expenditure of $13,350, appropriated from the waterworks surplus by the city for the materials and approximately $20,000 by the federal government for all the labor.

The extensions have all been approved by WPA and are a part of the comprehensive plans drafted two years ago by the city engineering staff.

The extensions are to be made on Lincoln avenue, Fifth avenue, Braeburn, Woodland road and Marion avenue.

To finance the city's share of the cost on the city-wide curb and gutter replacement project, a revival of the work done here in the past two years, council appropriated $1,500 from the gasoline tax fund.

The project totaling $32,483 includes the construction and replacement of curbs and gutters throughout the city with the federal government paying all labor costs. The city's share is to purchase the materials needed on the job.

W. H. M'CLANE, 79, DIES IN SHELBY

William H. McClane, 79, who resided in Mansfield until three years ago, died at his home in Shelby early today following an extended illness. He was born in Dalton, Oct. 25, 1859.

A sister, Mrs. Mary McGinty of Mansfield, and two brothers, James F., of Mansfield and Christian K., of Los Angeles, Calif., survive.

Services will be held at the Finefrock funeral home at 3 p. m. Friday with Rev. Grover E. Swoyer of the First Lutheran church officiating. Burial will be Mansfield cemetery.

5 CHILDREN DIE IN HALIFAX FIRE

Youngsters Trapped In Home By Flames as They Sleep.

HALIFAX, N. S.—(INS)—Smoke-blackened bodies of five small children lay in the Halifax morgue today after fire of undetermined origin swept their home, the second tragic blow for a city still in mourning for approximately 30 victims of the Queen hotel holocaust five days ago.

The dead: Donald Downer, aged 6; his brothers, Bruce, 4, and Buddy, 3; Ruby Bobbit, 5, and Cyril McDonald.

The three Downer children, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Downer, and Cyril, only child of Mrs. Ida MacDonald, were trapped as they slept.

Ohio Senators Open Hearing on Highway Assessment Plan.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—The senate taxation committee opened hearings today on a highway assessment refunding bill which, one opponent said, would cost Ohio counties and municipalities at least $100,000,000.

The proposal, by Sen. R. A. Pollock (R.-Stark), would require the local subdivisions to assume payments of assessments against real estate which became due since July 25, 1929, refunding amounts already paid by property owners and wiping out delinquencies.

Mohandas K. Gandhi's sixth hunger strike to win government concessions for his millions of Indian followers focussed international attention on the 69-year-old nationalist leader. Gandhi ended his fast "unto death" when the native ruler of Rajkot, India, agreed to grant reforms that included a demand for an advisory council which would suggest ways of introducing a democratic government. Gandhi's wife, arrested Feb. 3, in Rajkot when she arrived to start a civil disobedience campaign, and later freed, returned to jail at the request of her husband and then went free again with other political prisoners. His fast lasted for 98½ hours.

OPEN CAMPAIGN

Sea Scouts Seek to Add 16 Members to Troop.

The Mansfield Sea Scout troop will open a campaign for 16 additional members at a meeting scheduled for 7.30 p. m. Thursday at headquarters in the Y. M. C. A.

The troop charter will be opened, and efforts will be made to increase the Sea Scout membership in the city to 32, according to Floyd Dent, area scout executive.

Membership in the troop is open to any Boy Scout over 15 years of age who has had at least a year's experience in the scouting movement. Cliff Hartnett, skipper of the troop, is heading the campaign.

Hartnett was named today by Dent to act as scoutmaster of troop No. 2 at Brinkerhoff school for the next month during the absence of Roy Myers. Hartnett will be assisted by Fred Lavender, Richard Weaver and Richard Sowash, Eagle scouts of the troop.

COLLEGE GUESTS

Parents Will Be Honored at Ashland March 17-19.

Miss Virginia Jenkins, 426 West Third street, president of the Y. W. C. A. at Ashland college, is co-chairman of a committee in charge of arrangements for the Parents' week-end program at the college, March 17, 18 and 19.

Working with Miss Jenkins in arranging the activities is Wellington Klingel, of Warsaw, Ind., president of the Y. M. C. A. Miss Jenkins is a daughter of Mrs. E. C. Jenkins, Mansfield.

The program is being planned to give parents an impression of life at Ashland college, and an opportunity to become acquainted with the college faculty and students.

Included on the program will be a musicale and reception on Friday evening, March 17; a Saturday morning chapel service; a Saturday afternoon activity survey program, and a banquet for parents on Saturday evening.

'ART,' WOMEN SAY OF STRIP TEASE

Burlesquers Do Their Stuff For Sake of Charity.

PHILADELPHIA —(INS)— It's really art, some 2,000 women were agreeing today after witnessing a private burlesque show at which a strip tease dancer did her stuff.

Not a single male was in the audience as burlesque stars from Philadelphia theaters contributed their acts for the benefit of the Philadelphia Consumptive Relief, a charitable organization.

There was an all-male orchestra, but that didn't bother the ladies. The strip tease number by common consent, was the hit of the show.

BOARD MEETS

CRESTLINE—Other than routine business the only matter acted upon at the regular meeting of the board of education Monday evening was that of asking for an advance draft on taxes of $5,000. This amount is needed to meet payments due on bonds and interest April 1.

The meeting which was held in the school library was presided over by the president, T. A. Cox.

C. L. Klahn was unable to be present because of sickness and V. V. DeJean also was absent.

BALKS AT SALE OF AIRPORT SITE

can't know who the company is?" asked Crum again.

Obtaining no answer Crum fired back: "Then to hell with it."

Mayor Hunter said he had no objection to utilities or to them improving their services, but did object to selling what he termed "the most prominent" portion of the airport.

"Why does any utility have to locate any buildings right at the airport entrance?" the mayor asked. "There are three other corners at that intersection and I advocate that they seek some other location."

The mayor questioned the erection of wires in the vicinity of the flying field that might impede any future growth of the airport. Kyle explained that all wires installed by the firm would be placed underground.

The issue was turned over to the committee with council members still asking each other who was the utility.

LeRoy Wittemire, general manager of the telephone company was out of the city today and could not be reached for a statement on whether the firm was seeking to acquire this site.

City officials pointed out that the sale of any portion of the property might tend to lessen the city's chances to obtain commercial traffic in future. They also pointed out that the 189 acres were purchased for $15,000 in 1928 and since that time that more than $200,000 has been spent on the property to improve it as a landing field.

$20,000 DAMAGE SUIT DISMISSED

Plaintiff Drops Action in Traffic Death; Industrial Case Up Tomorrow.

Dismissal of a $20,000 damage suit scheduled for trial today delayed re-convening of the county petit jury until Thursday morning when the jurors are due to hear a suit for industrial compensation. The jury recessed Monday night.

At the request of attorneys for Edith Keller, plaintiff in a $20,000 damage suit involving the accidental death of Foster Cross, late of Bellville, Common Pleas Judge C. H. Huston dismissed the action. Royal E. Bonner of Fredericktown was the defendant in the suit.

Scheduled for trial tomorrow is a case in which Hobart Mynhier seeks industrial compensation for the accidental death of Leonard Mynhier in November, 1936. The Ohio Industrial commission, defendant in the action, turned down applications for insurance funds, the plaintiff's petition states.

Only four of seven cases set for trial this week remain on the docket. One case was heard Monday, a second settled and the third was dismissed late yesterday.

GORED BY BULL, DIES

CHICAGO—(INS)—Gored when a 1500-pound bull ran amok and charged him in the Chicago union stockyards, Donald Stockdale, 57, a cattle trader, was dead today of his wounds. A second man, tossed over a fence on the bull's horns, escaped injury.

NEW ENROLLMENT

CCC Certification For War Vets To Open In April.

The Richland County Red Cross today was notified that another CCC enrollment for veterans of the World war and Spanish American wars would be held next month, the date to be set later.

This is for the older Conservation corps and is for veterans who are unemployed. Since the beginning of the CCC enrollment for veterans, the Richland County Red Cross has registered 163.

CUTS $47,000 FROM PAYROLL

State Highway Cites Savings for 2-Week Period, Ashland Division Slashes $2,600.

Reductions in the state highway department maintenance payroll under the new state administration saved $2,686 in the Ashland division and $47,000 in the state for the first two weeks of February as against the corresponding weeks of January, Robert S. Beightler, state highway director announced today.

Expenses for the Ashland division, which includes Richland county, for the first half of February were listed at $20,693 while costs for the same period in the preceding month were $23,379.

"In spite of the fact that flood conditions in southern Ohio and snow and ice in northern sections meant addition of many temporary employes, every highway division in the state showed a payroll saving, Beightler said.

The major saving was in division No. 7 at Sidney where costs were slashed $10,224, Beightler's report showed.

The savings were due to a reduction in the number of employes in the department, with from 90 to 100 fewer workers on the job in the Ashland division, comprising eight counties, than there were Jan. 1, Murray D. Shaffer, Ashland division engineer, said. He added that the employment rolls in Richland county had been reduced by 11 or 12 men who will not be replaced.

Director Beightler announced that he had abolished the position of Harry Flasher of Ashland, operating engineer in the state department effective March 15.

Flasher, former assistant engineer in the Ashland division, had been with the department since 1924 and took over his present post four years ago. He received $350 a month.

PAID AT LAST

IRONTON —(AP)— Lawrence county road workers today were paid for the first time in five months, receiving approximately one month's wages which county commissioners decided to pay from $70,000 received in state gasoline taxes.

planes, tanks and machineguns to put down street fighting.

General Miaja, meanwhile, was said to have opened negotiations with the Burgos government for a three weeks armistice which would end in complete capitulation.

Segismundo Casado, war minister who swept into power Sunday with overthrow of the Juan Negrin government, was reported to have entered Nationalist lines under a flag of truce to arrange the surrender.

Spanish observers cited a speech of Miaja yesterday as pointing to his plans.

"We do not wish to shed any more useless blood," Miaja declared. "My only wish, and I speak as a man who has fought with you, is for peace to return to Spain."

'PLUG' TRAFFIC LAW LOOPHOLE

Councilmen Change Ordinance So Owner Must Pay for Violation.

A "loophole" in Mansfield's traffic code had been plugged today by action taken by city council at last night's meeting.

A measure providing that the issuance of a traffic ticket be regarded as prima facie evidence that the owner of the automobile was the driver at the time of the violation was passed by council as an emergency.

The legislation was submitted by City Solicitor Marion D. Ward, who yesterday contended that a contested case of a traffic violation would be hard to prosecute because it lacked the evidence.

As the present code is drafted, Ward explained, the driver of the machine illegally parked is considered the violator, whereas the ticket for the violations carry the license number of the owner, who is not always the driver of the car.

Ward contends that the amendment to the code makes it legal to issue a summons against the owner of the car to appear in cross subject to cross examination.

SCHOOL MOVES EQUIPMENT INTO SHOP ADDITION

$25,000 Senior High Building to Be Ready for First Classes Next Week.

With the $25,000 shop addition at Senior high school completed, equipment was being moved into the building today.

The first unit of the school board's million dollar building program, the shop is expected to be ready for regular classes by the middle of next week, V. H Oberlander, head of the vocational department at the school, said.

The additional space in the vocational department will make it possible to handle about 180 additional boys at the opening of school next fall, Oberlander said. About 100 more boys can be accommodated in the mechanical drawing classes, 10 more in the electrical class, and 10 more in the woodworking classes.

With the completion of the building, the mechanical drawing room will be moved to the present electrical shop providing additional space, the woodworking shop will be transferred to the new building, and the electrical shop will be moved into the present woodworking shop.

Space in the automotive shop will be tripled, Oberlander said, as will the electrical shop. No new students will be accepted in this department this year, but students who signed for the course at the beginning of the present semester will be permitted to enroll.

A new student organization, a Stamp club, has been organized at the school. At an organization meeting Monday after school, Ed Eisele was elected president, and Robert Sheriff was elected secretary and treasurer.

The next meeting will be held March 13 at which time a program chairman will be appointed, and a regular meeting night set. Miss Margaret Tinsley is adviser of the group.

CLAIM SETTLED

Mother Authorized to Accept $247 For Daughter's Injuries.

Mrs Susan Yocha, 150 Daisy street, had been authorized in probate court today to accept $247 from the estate of the late John L. Thorne, Mansfield, for injuries suffered by her daughter, Evelyn. 18, in an automobile accident last Dec. 30.

Miss Yocha was a passenger in a car driven by Miss Helen Sturgeon which collided with one operated by Thorne at West Fourth street and Penn avenue. Thorne was killed in the crash.

ASKS ESTIMATE ON PAVING OF 12 CITY STREETS

Council Group Takes Steps to Draft 1939 Improvement Program.

Council's street committee, laying plans for its 1939 improvement program, today had asked City Engineer C. W. Statler for estimates on the paving of 12 city streets.

The request was made by George Berg, chairman of the street committee.

Commenting on the request, Berg said that it was the desire of the committee to obtain estimates on the projects so that it could draft the improvement program which is expected to be curtained this year because of an anticipated drop in revenue.

Berg pointed out that the city expected to spend only about $13,000 this year which is $8,000 under the amount used for street improvements during 1938.

The streets on which he has asked Statler for estimates are:

Here're Proposed Projects.

East Third street from North Main to North Adams street, Lawnview avenue from Maple street to Overlook avenue, McPherson street from Lawnsdale to the corporation line, Woodward avenue from Marion avenue to Bartley avenue, Augustine avenue from South Main street to the viaduct, Sturges avenue from Cline avenue to Lexington avenue, East Fifth street from North Main street to the Pennsylvania railroad, Cline avenue from Lexington avenue to Wood street, Fairlawn avenue from Maple street to Overlook avenue, Bartley avenue from Parkview street to Cline avenue, Poplar street from the end of the present pavement to Sloan avenue, and Sloan avenue from Vennum to Bartley avenue.

City Auditor Paul L. Kelley said that the city anticipated a total of $82,218 from auto registration fees and gas tax receipts this year but that more than $69,000 already had been earmarked by city council in the annual appropriation bill for the maintenance of the city's thoroughfares.

BACK MILK ACT

Richland Dairymen Hope for Passage of Fair Trade Bill.

Favoring the Burgett-Roberts bill which would set up standards of fair trade in the dairy industry, Richland county dairymen said today they would seek to get the bill out of the agriculture committee in the state legislature and before the senate.

The bill provides for administration through a state milk commissioner and a board of three members with the licensing of handlers of milk and cream proposed to provide funds for enforcing the law. The Ohio Milk Producers federation sponsored the law. Among the bill's objectives are:

1. To insure accurate weighing, sampling and testing of all milk and cream purchased from Ohio producers, and to license all persons engaged in these operations in milk plants, creameries and cream stations, condenseries and cheese plants, or employed in similar work by cooperatives.

2. To establish the financial responsibility of buyers of milk and cream to whom producers extend credit for 15 to 50 days after date of delivery.

RURAL SCHOOL HEADS CONFER

Proposed Baseball League Music Festival Up For Discussion.

Superintendents of Richland county's rural schools will discuss a proposed high school baseball league in the county and an all-county music festival at a meeting at 4 p. m. today in County Superintendent Boyd Robinson's office in the courthouse.

If the baseball league is organized it will be the first in the county in recent years. No date has been set for the music festival, an annual event.

World May Clamor for Glamor But Model Needs More Than That

OUTDOOR GIRL. Vivian Porter has that healthy, windblown appearance which makes her look well in bathing suits, campus dresses and skiing get-ups. She also takes nicely to wedding gowns. Single and from New Jersey, she was a Rockette at Radio City until illness forced her to stop dancing.

(By AP Feature Service)

GLAMOR girls are getting most of the attention these days. You see 'em in the ads, in the movies, and on the magazine covers. And you might think that anything but glamor girls would be a drug on the market. But you'd be wrong. To the model agencies they're just one of many types.

When an advertiser wants a picture of a girl admiring his vacuum cleaner, he doesn't ask for a slinky, slender fashion model. He wants a wholesome, housewifey girl who won't look silly pushing the cleaner. To get the job, the girl must fit the type. That's why "type" has become a byword of the profession.

Big agencies have their models' photographs indexed by types — these five girls from Models Bureau agency give you the idea:

CHARACTER: Advertisers often want to show a gamut of types, such as spinsters, dowagers, and stenographers. When they want a spinster, Almira Sessions often gets the job. She acts on the stage—at present in "Shadow and Substance." She's also acting when she models—because she's married.

SPECIALIST: When models have outstanding features, such as graceful legs, luminous eyes, beautiful teeth or slender hands, the often specialize. Marion Rosamond has flawless underpinnings. But also (as you'll note above), she happens to be an all-round beauty besides. She's 20, studious—and single.

YOUNG MATRON: Helen Bent (at top, inset) has been modeling for half a dozen years. Many models start slipping after the third year, but not Helen. She has the "flexible" face needed in order to appear interested in household gadgets. She also makes an excellent "mother"—though she's single.

SWANK: Witty, gracious Alicia Quigley oozes glamor. And for her job she needs it. She does "high fashions." Alicia studied journalism before becoming a model; she's only 19. Has small feet; many models have notoriously big ones. She's five feet 8½ inches high, wears size 12 dresses.

ONTARIO PUPILS STAGE OPERETTA

'Sunny or Sunnyside' to Be Presented Friday evening.

Twenty-three pupils of the seventh and eighth grades of the Springfield township school at Ontario will present an operetta, "Sunny of Sunnyside," at 8 p. m. Friday in the high school auditorium.

Pupils cast in the production are Beverly Moss, Doris Ulmer, Burdell Kader, Lemoyne Sower, Robert Daugherty, Donovan Hall, Althea Duffner, Ruth Ellen McFarland, Muriel Winters, Corrine Payton, Wilma Rush, Jessie Rader, Mary Heichel, Arthur Kern, Jack Teeters, Floyd Heston, Gwendolyn Rogers, Elton Orewiler, Martha Weaver, Lee Paramore, James Hunt, Junior Gage and Dorothy Eyerly.

Miss Gladys Arnholt, musical director at the school, will direct the production, and Evelyn Taylor will be the accompanist.

AUDITORIUM AT SENIOR HIGH TO BE RENOVATED

Plastering Repairs Already Under Way; Painting and New Blinds Planned.

A renovating program was underway today in the Senior high school auditorium that is to include redecorating, plastering, repairs and new window blinds.

Plasterers are now at work repairing sidewalls and ceilings and filling in places where plaster has fallen off, J. B. Moke, superintendent of buildings, said.

It is also planned to redecorate the auditorium after the plastering repairs have been made, Moke said. An application has been made for a WPA project for repainting the entire interior of the high school building which would include the auditorium. The interior has not been painted since the building was finished 13 years ago. The board of education already has appropriated $450 for the sponsor's share of the work.

Old Curtains to Go.

School officials also plan to replace the red curtains on the auditorium windows with roller blinds. A benefit show by the school has been proposed to help finance the purchase of the new blinds.

Repairs already completed in the auditorium are the sanding of the stage and covering of the floor with a penetrating seal that fills all cracks and helps eliminate dust. Old ropes have been replaced with new ones on the various drops and screens on the stage.

60-Acre Farm to Be Offered at Sheriff's Sale Saturday.

A 60-acre farm in Sandusky township will be offeerd at sheriff's sale at 10 a. m. Saturday at the courthouse on a $2,002 foreclosure judgment obtained by the Union Joint Stock Land bank.

The judgment was awarded on a cross-petition filed in the case of Jennie B. Berkhiser against Roy E. Lohr and others. Located four miles southwest of Ontario, the farm is valued at $3,000 and must sell for at least $2,000.

CHANGES PLEA

Woman Gets 1 to 10 years on Perjury Charge.

Changing her plea to guilty, Mrs. Elma Ramsey, 27, colored, of Mansfield, was sentenced to one to 10 years in the Marysville reformatory for perjury yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Ramsey, who was indicted by the county grand jury a week ago, pleaded innocent when first arraigned and changed her plea four hours later.

The indictment against her grew out of false testimony she admitted giving during a grand jury investigation two months ago. Prosecutor G. W. Marriott questioned her then concerning her alleged attempt to shoot her husband, John Ramsey.

The jury refused to indict her on the shooting count and the case was continued to the recent session.

EAGLE ATTACKS

Youth, 16, Beats Off Bird While on Skiing Trip.

PARIS (INS)— A 16-year-old boy was skiing at the village of Salle-des-Alpes near Grenoble when he was attacked by an eagle with a wing span of over six feet. After a long struggle, he beat the bird to death with his skis.

CONVICT'S DAUGHTER + + +

By RUTH RAY KANE

(Copyright, 1939.)

CHAPTER XIV.

HOUR AFTER hour Lona sat there waiting outside her father's door at the prison hospital, waiting for a moment when he should know her. Around her went on the grim routine of the place. She heard the clanging of bells in the prison yard outside. Now and then there came to her ears the sound of dragging feet in the semblance of a march. There were bars at every window, bars that seemed to keep out the very sunshine that must, by now, be beating down with the full vigor of the summer day. Prison gray was on every figure she caught sight of; even the noonday meal she could scarcely choke down through her dry throat was brought to her by a shadowy figure in the eternal gray.

Twice during that interminable day they allowed her to tip-toe back into the box-like room where her father's wasted figure still labored on the narrow bed. He took no notice of her presence either time. His weak voice seemed ever weaker, and his rambling words were mumbled through the hardness of his breathing.

"The crisis will come tonight," the doctor told her, shaking his head. "We'll keep you on call."

"He's got to know me," she told him desperately. "He can't die without knowing I'm here!"

By nightfall she hated the place. Hated it with an unreasoning hunted hatred that made her shudder as she thought of the thousands of men shut up like beasts behind these gray unyielding walls, barred forever, some of them, from the sun and the rain and the stars. The very air seemed to stifle her, and the sight of the bars on the windows burned into her brain.

The lights had flashed on and the noises of the day had quieted into a semblance of peace when the warden came to her again, his kindly face pitying, and his eyes concerned.

"You must have a rest, Miss," he ordered her in his courtly way. "A walk in the air. Mrs. Lewis sent me to bring you over to the house."

"But I can't leave! He might want me any time, now." She appealed to the nurse. "He might wake up and—know me."

The nurse shook her head. "It'll be hours yet before he can possibly know you. I'd go if I were you."

"But what if he should—die?"

"He won't. We'll send for you at the first sign you're needed."

"Come, miss." The warden was helping her to her feet with a kindly hand beneath her elbow. "Warden's orders." He smiled, and she remembered he was accustomed to being obeyed.

"It would do me good to get some air," she conceded.

Outside, the grim walks stretched from gray stone building to gray stone building. Deserted now, they seemed more like the patiently landscaped paths of a spinster's garden than what they were. The toil of countless unwilling hands showed in every flower bed, every velvety stretch of lawn Pride she found it difficult to understand was in the warden's voice as he pointed out his own private bed of flowering gladioli flanking the high windows of the home where he lived with his wife. Tall and straight, each slender, blossom-laden spire lifted its length regally toward the patch of sky hemmed in by the monotonous gray walls.

They brought a sob choking from one's throat, those gladioli Daddy had loved them so, at home. In the center of the bed, she saw them, a ring of deep blue, the sort he had especially cultivated in the old days, his own particular brand, and she turned to the warden with a question in her eyes.

It was a scream she never uttered.

He nodded comprehending. "He was a wizard with flowers." A huge sigh shook the man's shoulders. "We'll miss him. This bed was his pride. We sort of left the landscaping up to him," he offered seeing that she was interested. "He puttered about with it at first, but these last two years he's been in full charge here. I think it made him more contented."

"I'm glad." The load that was dragging at her heart lifted a little as she looked over the beautiful grounds with eyes that saw them new. At least he had had some pleasure these dreadful years. Next to her and his home, Daddy had loved his flowers. They hadn't taken every thing away from him, then.

She left the warden's side and went impulsively across the green lawn to the gladiola bed. From the very heart of the blue centerpiece she selected the most velvety bloom. Its touch on her hand was like a caress, and she turned away that the warden might not see the tears in her eyes as she buried her face in its fragrant freshness.

"Daddy," she whispered, and for an instant she was back in the old garden at home, back in the old days, before she had even known there was sucha place as this.

After the glory of the gladiola garden, the gray walls seemed bleaker than ever, as she went with the warden on up the stone pathway to his home. Over in the barred windows across the yard, lights flashed suddenly, simultaneously, and she knew that the prisoners were back in their cells for the night, supper over, nothing to do but wait . . . . wait for morning and another meaningless day.

* * *

From the lighted windows countless eyes seemed to be watching, staring at her enviously, and she shivered. The sense that she was never alone had possessed her ever since the gate had clanged shut behind her this morning, and it seemed, now, to be intensified. She wondered, suddenly, what the warden's wife would be like. What would it do to a woman, living in this atmosphere, year in and year out, this world of barred windows, and stone walls?

Mrs. Lewis was not at the door to meet her husband, and he called to her with an anxiety that Lona thought must be habitual as he ushered the girl into the severely furnished hall.

"Emma!" He frowned when there was no answer, and called again. "She must be busy," he told Lona, still frowninng. "Odd, she sent me for you. . . . Emma!"

The door opened of its own accord when he reached it, and a sudden choked scream forced itself through Lona's lips. A man in gray was standing there, facing them, teeth bared, a gun in his hand

"Get 'em up, warden!" he ground out. "Quick!"

* * *

It was a scream she never uttered. A hand from behind her closed suddenly over her opened mouth, and her body was clamped back against another man who clutched her so hard she could feel his heavy breathing. Frantically she struggled, trying to break free.

"Shut up!" a growling voice ordered in her ear. "One peep and you're a goner." Something hard she knew was a gun, was shoved into her back and she ceased her struggling.

"We want clothes!" the man guarding Warden Lewis ordered next. "A coupla your suits'll do, warden. Get 'em, Louie! I'll manage these two. While we're waitin' you kin order out your car, warden. Tell 'em t' send it to the door, you'll be drivin' it yourself. Come on, get goin'! There's the phone right beside you."

"You can't get away with this, Lefty." Warden Lewis' voice was cold now. His whole face had changed. Gone was the courtly gentleman Lona had known. He looked hard and ruthless.

The convict laughed harshly. "Can't I?" he ground out.

"Where's my wife?" the warden demanded without moving. "I'll see you in hell if you've harmed my wife—"

"Aw, th' old woman's o. k.—yet. She's locked in upstairs. Won't hurt her. Are you goin' t' order out that car? My finger's itchy."

"You can't make it, Lefty—"

"Come on. Quit stallin' . . . . There's the telephone. You call that garage an' no monkey business. I'm listenin' remember. . . . Tell 'em you're takin' some visitors home. See? . . . Visitors! That's me and Louie' an'—her. . . She's goin' with us. Ain't that nice?"

"You can't take that girl away from here, Lefty. She's Ackerman's girl. Ackerman's dying!"

"Let him die! . . . What th' hell do we care? Are you gonna phone, warden?"

"Get goin', warden. . . . Dial the garage!"

"You can't—"

"Call the garage, warden!" The fellow's voice was an ugly snarl now, and he dug his gun savagely into the warden's ribs, his eyes still keeping track of Lona. Reluctantly, the warden went to the telephone.

CHEST COLDS

Here's Quick Relief from Their DISTRESS!

The annoying discomforts of a cold in chest or throat, generally ease when soothing, warming Musterole is applied.

Better than a mustard plaster, Musterole gets action because it's NOT just a salve. It's a "counter-irritant": stimulating, it penetrates the surface skin and helps to quickly relieve local congestion, aches and pains due to colds.

Used by millions for 30 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. In three strengths: Regular, Children's (mild) and Extra Strong, 40¢. Approved by Good Housekeeping Bureau.

MUSTEROLE

BETTER THAN A MUSTARD PLASTER

False Teeth Wearers Are Worst Breath Offenders!

"Need More Than a Mouth Wash" say Authorities . . . Recommend Polident

Plates and bridges soak up odors and impurities like a sponge! A thin dark scum collects on them. This scum holds germs and decay bacteria. It is so tough that ordinary brushing seldom removes it. And it gets into every tiny crevice where brushing can't even reach. Almost always it results in "denture breath" —probably the most offensive of all breath odors.

Yet there's a perfect way to clean and purify false teeth without brushing, acid or danger. It is Polident, a powder that dissolves away all scum, stains, tarnish and odor. Makes breath sweeter—and plates or bridges look better and feel better. Tens of thousands call Polident a blessing for comfort, convenience and hygiene. Long-lasting can costs only 30¢ at any drug store. Approved by Good Housekeeping Bureau and dentists everywhere.

Cleans, Purifies Like Magic

Do this daily: Add a little Polident powder to ½ glass water. Stir. Then put in plate or bridge for 10 to 15 minutes—Rinse—and it's ready to use!

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 8, 1939.

Free speech in favor of a dictator who would deny free speech is one of the paradoxes of a democracy.

Time is being given to forget the story of "Gone With the Wind" before being introduced to the film version—as in Jesse James.

Ohio's Serious Penal Problems.

MANSFIELD and Richland county cannot escape a share of responsibility for permitting continuance of conditions such as exist in the century-old state penitentiary in Columbus.

While larger cities and larger counties account for a higher percentage of the more than four thousand prisoners confined in this frightfully overcrowded penal institution, the disgrace of tolerating such handling of criminals rests on the state as a whole.

In discussing this situation yesterday Acting Warden Amrine said: "It's a disgrace to throw 4,000 people, good, bad, indifferent, diseased, normal and degenerate, into one institution, as is done at Ohio penitentiary."

Penitentiary deficiencies are not of recent origin—they were brought forcefully to public notice when more than three hundred convicts met death in a prison fire almost nine years ago.

Modern as it may pride itself on being in some ways, the state of Ohio has been sadly derelict in distinguishing between various types of criminals and in providing suitable quarters for segregation of different classifications.

Recent revelation that in Cuyahoga county alone there are scores of feeble-minded men and women, boys and girls, who are on waiting lists for commitment to state institutions in which there is no space for them, gives some further idea of the serious problems faced by the state welfare department—and by the people of Ohio.

Also in the background is the thought that, in Ohio, no steps are being taken toward reduction of propagation of congenitally sub-normal and feeble-minded children who will carry these problems long into the future.

More Counterfeiting Than Ever Before.

MANY otherwise careful people take for granted that money—either currency or coin—is genuine, and give practically no thought to the fact that it may be counterfeit.

A news item yesterday told of the smashing of a big eastern counterfeiting ring by agents of the United States secret service.

This persistent battle against counterfeiters has been going on for many years, but, despite thousands of arrests and the heavy penalties imposed, it appears that counterfeiting has been developed into a well organized industry, with more scientific processes than ever before used in making fraudulent bills and coins.

Knowledge of the portrait used on each bill, together with more study as to quality of paper and appearance of printing on genuine bills, is held to be highly important in guarding against taking counterfeit money. Familiarity with the weight, appearance and "feel" of coins will also help in detecting the spurious.

A good habit of carefulness is to carry only bills of smaller denominations, for use in making ordinary purchases, and to have large bills exchanged at a bank, where the currency has already undergone expert scrutiny.

According to Courtney Riley Cooper, historian of the underworld, counterfeiting will only cease to prosper when more people are willing to take the time and trouble to examine the money that passes through their hands—and are better able to distinguish the genuine from the bogus.

Would Extend Patrol Powers.

AN EFFORT is being made in the Ohio legislature to increase the police powers of state highway patrolmen, now limited to enforcement of traffic laws on highways.

It is proposed that the services of highway patrolmen be also made available in felony cases, so that they may aid in running down criminals who strike suddenly and escape rapidly.

Objections from various sources have thus far prevented giving full police powers to highway patrolmen, which would seem to be an entirely reasonable procedure in the interests of fair and efficient law enforcement.

Some progress will be made, however, if powers of the patrolmen are extended to enlisting their aid in felony cases, in accordance with an amended bill now under consideration.

A Menace to Free Labor.

AMERICAN labor should consider the condition of workers in countries where private industry has been swallowed by government.

What would happen to a group of laboring men in Russia or Germany if they called a strike in a government-owned industry? Their shrift would be short, for to strike against the government in those countries is treason.

The politician who advocates public ownership of industry in the United States, on the theory that in some miraculous manner this will give the people some untold blessing, is merely camouflaging a move toward the iron-handed control and limitation of individual rights which is an inescapable part of socialistic, communistic, or fascistic government.

It's not a pretty picture for free labor in the United States, if it looks ahead to see what its position would be under government ownership of industries. It's one thing for labor, organized or unorganized, to deal with a private employer. It is quite a different thing to deal with government.

You can negotiate on wage matters with a private employer, call a strike against him if you aren't satisfied, and still have the police and court protection of government. But when you are working for government, and strike against government—particularly when government becomes all powerful through control of production and distribution—you are helpless. A strike means revolution.

Labor should be a staunch supporter of private enterprise as against the growing menace of state socialism.

Watching Trends

—By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—A century-old battle between the states and federal government over which owns the sea bottom out to the three-mile limit has blossomed anew with the conflict centering about a politically dangerous commodity—oil.

Charles Edison, assistant secretary of the navy, has just asked congress in a letter to lay claim to California's off-short oil lands. The idea, he explains, is to give the federal government a stronger basis for a suit to determine which—state or federal government—may grant leases or refuse leases, as the case may be.

The thing started on a far broader scale, Senator Nye of North Dakota (no sea coast of its own) introduced a bill last session laying federal claim not only to California's off-shore oil beds, but to all off-shore sea bottom—Atlantic, Gulf of Mexico and Pacific. It directed the attorney general to begin suit to establish federal ownership before the oil was all pumped out.

Nye steered the bill through the senate before anybody really took notice. When it reached the house, alert Texas and California members shunted it into the judiciary committee headed by astute Rep. Sumners of Texas, and gave it the ride of its life.

* * *

Three States Lead Fight.

PRACTICALLY every sea coast state in the Union sent lawyers to fight it. Most concerned were:

Texas—Which has valuable off-shore oil fields returning fat income to state schools.

Naval lawyers asserted that the federal government should lay claim to every inch of sea bottom—and all beneath it—out to the three-mile limit. By the time New York, Florida, Mississippi, and a covey of other coastal states had put in an appearance, advocates of federal ownership were weakening.

The 13 original states argued that they surrendered no sea bottom to the federal government. Texas insisted it had not when it came in as an independent republic. Other states seemed to have shakier claims.

Ultimately the bill was rewritten to cover only California. Rep. Sam Hobbs of Alabama maneuvered it out of judiciary committee late last session, but it died in rules committee.

Edison Revives Dispute.

THE letter of Assistant Secretary of the Navy Edison started the fight again this session—with California as trial horse for the whole show.

Meantime the whole California sea coast is jittery, not to mention the jitters by proxy along the Gulf and Atlantic coast. San Francisco, from the Montgomery street financial district to the harbor, once was below the low tide line. Property owners got their titles from the state. What happens to their titles if the federal government should establish ownership?

What would happen to property rights in New York harbor, to Atlantic City's outreaching amusement piers? To Texas and Louisiana oil fields?

Party Splits Slow Up Congress

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

New Deal leaders in congress want to adjourn early in June. It's good betting that they fail to do it. However, it's easy to understand their desire to do so. The longer the session spins itself out the more noticeable intra-Democratic disension is pretty sure to become. Hence, the recent meeting of the party's steering committee to hasten enactment of key legislation and to sidetrack non-essential items. Committee Chairman James G. Scrugham gave out a very hopeful report too. The meeting was strictly on the q.t., but Scrugham's account was that it was perfectly harmonious. If there really was any hair-pulling, though, he wouldn't have been likely to emphasize it.

The fact of the matter is that not much congressional progress has been made yet with any important business except the national defense program. As to defense, there is little difference of opinion. Not only are Democrats in general agreement; Democrats and Republicans concur relative to main essentials. There are criticisms of the administration's foreign policy, but few lawmakers of either major group deny that Uncle Sam's cue is to arm himself for bear, in the face of a highly threatening overseas situation. There's plenty of objection to his participation in any scrap which may develop abroad, but few legislators fail to recognize that such developments may slop over into Uncle Samuel's world area.

Concerning domestic problems, there is no similar degree of unanimity—as between Democrats and Republicans or as between Democrats and Democrats.

Split-up Democrats.

The truth is that the Democrats, already badly split, are resplitting.

There are the New Deal Democrats.

There are the Old Deal Democrats.

The administration is making concessions to the Old Dealers. Many of the New Dealers resent these concessions. Many of the Old Dealers consider said concessions insufficient.

Thus the Old and New Dealers are split. The New Dealers are internally split, as between concessions and no concessions. And the Old Dealers are split, as between accepting concessions and not accepting them. All this is lovely from the G. O. P. standpoint. The drawback is that the Republicans realize that they aren't offering anything particularly satisfactory.

Representative Bruce Barton syndicated a story the other day that's too good not to quote. Somebody asked an old lady how the Methodist church in her neighborhood was doing. "Not so well," answered the old lady, "but thank God, the Presbyterians aren't doing any better."

Ditto the Democrats. They're not doing very well, but the Republicans aren't doing any better.

Incidentally, many chroniclers have reported a chorus of acclaim for Thomas E. Dewey as a G. O. P. presidential candidate in 1940. I haven't heard much unanimity of applause for him. It's conceded that he's in the limelight, but he doesn't strike me as being so overwhelmingly popular. The complaint seems to be that he's smarty. Pictures of him don't make a hit. He looks fresh, opponents say. It's no kind of a size-up, but it counts politically.

Back to Foreign Affairs.

But to return to foreign affairs!

The state department has been congratulating itself that the Spanish danger is over.

But is it?

Spain has been licked before—by the Romans, by the Moors, by Napoleon. But it never had STAYED licked. Now it's licked, Now it's licked, principally, by the Italians. Nominally it's squelched. Its record is, that so vanquished, it has resorted to guerilla warfare, and won in the end.

If this rumpus finally is over, it will be unusual for Spain.

And it will be an international headache while it lasts.

Timely Editorial

Contract Versus Poker.

Playing card manufacturers, after a survey of 2,600 clubs and organizations, conclude that contract bridge is the country's favorite deal, poker second, and auction, nosed out a few years back by contract, third. The finding is a safe one, because contract fans will accept the championship with vocal and wide acclaim, while poker addicts, who screen their activities in marked degree, will not come out of hiding to dispute it.

Rummy was a fourth in the compilation of favorites; pinochle, fifth; hearts, sixth; 500, seventh, and whist and solitaire next in preference. Note where whist, that started a long line of favorite games, has fallen. There is a slow but steady change in card club fashions, and now and then a new game climbs to the zenith; yet it is not to be forgotten by cynics that the facts about the popularity of poker are unlikely to be developed by tabulating the preferences of clubs.—Philedalphia Bulletin.

You and Your Nation's Affairs

Death Taxes for Chain Stores.

By ELIOT JONES
Professor of Transportation and Public Utilities, Stanford University.

REPRESENTATIVE PATMAN of Texas has introduced in the house of representatives a bill to impose a heavy excise tax on chain stores. The tax ranges from $50 to $1,000 per store on all stores over ten, the amount of the tax depending on the number of stores in the chain. Thus the tax is $50 per store on all stores over ten and not over fifteen, and it rises to as much as $1,000 per store on all stores in excess of five hundred.

If a chain operates in more than one state, however, the tax per store is multiplied by the number of states in which the chain has stores. Should a chain have stores in every state and the District of Columbia the tax per store would be multiplied by forty-nine. A chain doing a nation-wide business might thus be taxed as much as $49,000 per store on some of its stores.

The purpose of the Patman bill is to cripple the chain stores, and to make the operation of a large inter-state chain impossible.

This bill is not in the interest of the consumers. Were the chain stores guilty of charging excessive prices anti-chain store sentiment would be justified. But the fact is that chain stores usually charge lower prices than the independent retailers.

There are several reasons why the chains can undersell the independents. Chain stores usually deal directly with the manufacturers and producers, thus eliminating expensive middleman, such as wholesalers and commission merchants. Chain stores buy merchandise in large quantities, often in carload lots, and thus are able to effect savings in transportation. Direct sources of supply and rapid turnover result in fresher merchandise and smaller losses from spoilage. The chains also have the benefit of the experience of the other stores in the chain.

Another important explanation of the lower prices of the chains is that they sell on a cash and carry basis. This reduces bookkeeping costs, eliminates the loss from bad debts, and avoids the expense of delivery service. Many people, of course, demand a charge account and delivery service, and thus there is a real need and opportunity for the independent retailer who is prepared to supply such services. But those who are willing to pay cash and forego delivery service should be able to avail themselves of the lower prices that the chain stores, with their cash and carry policies, are able to offer.

If the chain store constitutes a more efficient agency of distribution—mass distribution paralleling the movement toward mass production—and passes the savings along to the consumers in lower prices, the producers also are benefited, for the demand for their products increases as the prices to consumers fall.

Should the chain stores be guilty of employing any improper practices, these practices should of course be outlawed. But the chain store system of distribution should not be outlawed, or even hampered, by a system of punitive taxation. The public is best served when the field is open, without legislative discrimination, to competition between rival system of distribution. And probably the outcome of such competition will prove to be the retention of both chain stores and independent stores, each meeting the needs of certain groups of consumers.

Listen, World!

"Dear God—Our Baby's Gone."

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

EVER hear of Greenland, Arkansas—somewhere in the Ozarks? Neither did I until something came out of there the other day. Just a prayer from two country folks who'd lost their baby girl.

Fred Starr wrote that prayer. Hadn't heard of Fred Starr, either, until we ran that "Want to Be a Columnist for a Day" offer. Then Fred dropped in. Seems he runs a column in a paper down that way, calls it "Plain Tales From the Ozarks" . . . puts into it whatever comes of work or play, joy or sorrow. So when these poor souls stumbled by, blinded with tears, Fred tried to shape their frantic reaching into a prayer. One of those prayers that touch every heart that's ever known tears . . .

Unfortunately, because of its length, we can't print Fred's prayer as he wrote it. But heartbreak is heartbreak—however you word it. And so . . . asking Fred's pardon . . . we've tried to fit his gentle, understanding thoughts to our limited space . . . knowing they'll help many a hurt heart. And if that heart happens to be yours, won't you write and thank him, partner? Maybe Fred needs a hand, too.

Dear God—
Our baby's gone—
We're not complaining—
Trying just to understand—
Please hold our hands—
Help us to see it straight—
Not hate—nor envy those Whose little ones are left—
We want to thank you, God,
For lending her to us
This little while—
It was a privilege!
Give us strength to smile
While our hearts break—
Perhaps we failed
To do the things we should.
But, honest, God—
We did the best we could!
There never was a time—
We didn't come
When little Sister cried—
Why, we'd a-died
To save her, God!

She seems so tiny—
Out there—all alone;
They say there is no night
Where she has gone—
But you know babies
Weary easy, God,
Begins to nod
Before the wonder
Will you please let
Her Gramma come and tuck
The covers round her face?
For Gramma, somehow,
Always had a way
With babies.

Her mother'd like to say—
Perhaps, if you've
You'll keep a bow
Of ribbon on her hair—
Blue ribbon, God—
The way we usta do—
Oh, God—it can't be true
That she has gone—
It seems so wrong!
We miss her so—
Crying—"Why, oh why?"
But then—
We guess you know—
For you, too,
Had to watch
Your dear boy go—

We know it's splendid
On your shining shore,
But Sister's never
Slept away before—
So won't you take her
Little frightened hand
And tell her, plain,
In words she'll understand,
That Mom and Dad
Are coming to her—true—
You'll know how, God,
To keep a tiny girl
From being sad,
For once you had
A little baby, too.
Oh, God—
It hurts—
Please help!
Amen.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—If you should find yourself stymied in an attempt to walk through the Thirties between 7th and 8th avenues during the noon hour on any week day, console yourself with the thought that millions before you have tried it without success and millions will try it again. For that is the garment center of the world. It is New York's famous coat and suit district, and in this area alone more than a million people are employed.

This is the core of the ready-to-wear industry, two-thirds of which is for women, and though every nationality under the sun may be found there, the trade is predominantly Jewish.

You think of clothes and people shut away in stores in New York, and you doubt if they have any idea of what the rest of the country looks like, or of its agricultural problems, or its mining and engineering. But you are wrong. These people have a "bible," the same as "Variety" is the theatrical world's "bible." It is called The Daily News Record, and you will find it in practically every house, store, or shop throughout the garment district.

WHAT is this Record? It is a careful analysis of the trade, printed, surprisingly complete and well, in daily doses. The men who make wholesale topcoats in 34th street, for example, know that plowing is now general in the Rio Grande valley, because the Record tells them so. Plowing is important to them, because you can not plant cotton until you plough, and cotton goes into much of the product of the clothing industry. They know that Louisiana farmers have paid off their debts; that winter temperatures in Alabama have been above normal; that in Georgia rainfall has prevented many areas from breaking ground, and that in favorable rural communities in South Carolina credit is easily obtained.

They know that in New York yesterday between 25 and 30 million yards of print cloth were sold. Print cloth is definitely in demand. Rayon is holding its price. Wyoming clips (wool) is bringing 23¾ cents a pound. The district is not particularly disturbed over a barter agreement between Italy and Uruguay. As yet it has not voiced an opinion on the sailing of five ships on Feb. 28 from Japan, loaded with 5,240 bales of silk for the United States.

* * *

STRIPES as well as prints are having a boom in the towel industry. "There has been a decided increase in the demand for style towels," notes one correspondent from Fort Worth. He thinks that color and monogramming have added much to sales.

Women are extremely critical of sheets, advises an observer in Providence. They pay more attention to "construction," whatever that may mean, and they want full-width sheets.

This is but a tithe of the grist that everybody in the garment center knows from A to Z. They can tell you the names of the large and small stores in every city of size in the United States.

New York's garment center is a world unto itself. I know next to nothing about it. No one does who isn't employed there, because it is too vast and many-sided. But I can tell you this: If you are in a hurry during the noon hour—detour. Breasting that human tide is something that can't be done.

How It Started

—By JEAN NEWTON

To Be Put on the "Shelf".

To be relegated to the ranks of the backnumbers, to be pushed aside, to make way for a newcomer, to have brought home the fact that one's usefulness is finished and heretofore to be supplanted—all this may not mean being put on an actual shelf; but is how it started.

This now figurative expression once had—and occasionally still does have—a literal application.

It stems directly from the lexicon of the book publisher, who, since the earliest days of his industry has referred to title for which there is no longer an active sale as being on the shelf—as against being in the possession of the customers.

A Farmer's Diary

Mountain Laurel.

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

A FRIEND of mine has a splendid specimen of mountain laurel near his house. All through the autumn when leaves of other trees and shrubs colored flaming red and yellow, faded to drab and dropped silently one by one after every frost and storm, the laurel remained unscathed.

This lovely little tree bore its shiny, long green leaves uninjured by biting frost and early snows. Even in the coldest winter weather, the sloping leaves looked darker than before, but seemed to cling tighter to the hardy stem.

The bark is tough and sometimes twisted, always with a hint of red shining through. I have never seen a stem that did not show this latent color. The trunk bends easily, like a vine, but seldom breaks.

When I was just a lad I used to help my father drive our herd of young cattle up the mountainside in spring, to browse about the early grass that grew among the rocks—and along the clear, fast flowing streams. The oak, the sugar, the hickory and the chestnut had only started tiny leaves, but the green mountain laurel had wreathed the brow of every steep and through this our cattle went and were lost to view.

My father said that the green leaves were poison, and if they ate too much the cattle would get sick or die. Within three hours after sampling these tempting leaves, four bloated heavily, and panted hard, with sagging tongues. Before we left for home at dark, two fine ravenous steers were lying on the stony mountain side. We left them there. The tinkling cowbells told how far and wide the others had scattered. Afterward, I learned that laurel leaves are not poisonous, but tough and almost indigestible.

The bloom is held erect in ball-like clusters. To me the speckled flowers look like some lively English print, or calico. I like to watch the ten stamens, as the flower opens slowly, fitting into the ten pockets of the corolla. Then the bee comes to sip the nectar from the center and when he does so the tiny filaments fly up and brush their pollen against his body. The sweet bait has been his pay for carrying vital life to other flowers.

U. S. Claims Naval Air Fleet Equal to Best In World

PERFORMANCE IN WAR GAMES DRAWS PRAISE

Roosevelt, High Navy Leaders Say Forces as Good or Surpass All Others.

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — President Roosevelt and high naval officials were convinced by recent fleet maneuvers in the South Atlantic that the naval air forces of the United States equal, and perhaps surpass, those of any other nation, it was disclosed today.

Their opinion was based on a study of performance of the 600 planes—about one-third of the navy's air strength—during two weeks of exercises in which assignments were carried out without incident.

Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of naval operations, praised the performance of both ships and aircraft during the maneuvers and said "reliability and effectiveness" of sea and aerial defenses was demonstrated.

'Best I Ever Saw.'

"The performance of aircraft in the maneuvers was, by far, the best I ever saw," Leahy said. "They carried out their mission without an accident. The advantages in the air were on the 'defense' side."

Mr. Roosevelt, who watched the fleet maneuvers from the cruiser Houston, also was said to feel that the exercises gave evidence of the might and efficiency of the nation's first line of defense, particularly with regard to aerial operations.

The part of naval forces in national defense was emphasized as the senate naval affairs committee resumed hearings on the $65,000,000 bill to authorize establishment of 12 naval bases.

On the army side of the national defense picture, the senate passed, 77 to 8, and sent back to the house late yesterday a $358,000,000 army expansion bill authorizing an air corps strength of 6,000 planes, an increase of 500 over house figures, increased defenses for the Panama canal and "educational" war supply orders to be placed with industry.

CRIPPLE HOTELS

Bellboys, Elevator Operators on Strike in Washington.

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— Three American Federation of Labor unions called a strike of all service employes at 13 hotels early today.

The strike was voted by the local joint board of the three unions—locals 80, 781 and 75—which include in their memberships bell boys, elevator operators, maids, cooks, waiters and waitresses, and bartenders.

The strike followed the refusal of hotel owners to grant the unions a closed shop.

Negotiations for settleemnt of differences between the hotels and unions have been under way for a week.

CRITICS WIN

Application for Liquor Permit Withdrawn by Legion.

SHELBY—O'Brien Post of the American Legion has withdrawn its application for a liquor license from the state board of liquor control at Columbus trustees of the post said today.

The application, which was sent to the state board earlier this year, drew a protest from members of the First Church of Christ and residents from the district in which the Legion home is located. The Christian church is across the street from the home.

Several hundred persons signed petitions circulated by the members of the church. The petitions were filed with the state liquor control board when the application for a liquor license was made by the Legion post.

RESERVES MEET

GALION — The social committee of the Girl Reserves, with Joan Campbell as chairman, had charge of the program for the meeting Tuesday night at Senior high school. "Planning for Work" was the subject of the discussion which was in charge of Minnie Hawkins. Helen Allwine, Rosemary Wise, Edna Tyner, Delores Enders, Virginia Tracht and Jane Andrews.

An explanation of the five points of the code was given by Eleanor Cronenwett, and this was followed with a song service led by Evelyn Musselman.

TAKES POST APRIL 1

SANDUSKY — (AP) — Frank J. Prout announced today he would assume his new duties as president of Bowling Green university about April 1.

MANSFIELDERS GET FIRST HAND ACCOUNT OF LIFE IN WAR ZONE

Reading of war in the newspapers may be more timely but it isn't so interesting as reading of the personal experiences of friends who have lived through it, according to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wolf, Park avenue west, who have just received first-hand impressions from a friend.

A letter written Jan. 26 on board the Danish freighter, India, somewhere between Manila and Singapore, and mailed from the Philippine Island city on Jan. 31, reached its destination a few days ago.

The letter was written by W. W. Ritchie, English business agent for the Chinese government's postal service, whom the Wolfs met in 1936 when they took a trip around the world.

"When the Chinese government evacuated Nanking," he wrote his Mansfield friends, "and the ambassadors of the various powers left also, I remained behind, with a staff of 1,200 Chinese. My chief and other postal heads had gone on to Hankow.

"I was in 120 air raids, and as the postal work had to be carried on, we kept to the offices and did not have recourse to the dug-outs. There were sometimes as many as seven air raids a day and often there were night raids.

"When the work was completed I put my men aboard ship, which was lying close to the American Panay, and after embarking the Japanese entered Nanking. We were bombed by the enemy, and the same bomber went on to bomb and sink the Panay which by that time was several miles down the river.

"Having completed my work, and my 60th birthday being last year, I thought that I had played long enough with fate, and in any case I was due to retire."

Before settling down in Hongkong the Ritchies took a trip back to England and Italy and were on their way back to China on the freighter India, when the letter to the Mansfield family was written.

No Announcement Yet Of Marriage Plan, Gable Says

HOLLYWOOD—(INS)—The way was clear today for screen idol Clark Gable to marry Carole Lombard, the blond star, but while Hollywood watched with keen interest, neither Gable nor Miss Lombard had anything to say about their future plans.

In Las Vegas, Nev., yesterday Gable's socialite wife, Mrs. Maria Gable, was granted a quick divorce on grounds of desertion, and in Hollywood it was generally accepted that Gable and Miss Lombard would wed shortly.

"There is no announcement coming from me just now," said Gable, and that was all he would say.

It was the same with Miss Lombard. Both admitted, without being quoted however, that they would be married.

But the romance makers of the film colony insisted that the popular pair would march to the altar any day now that Gable is free.

Mrs. Gable, whose Las Vegas court appearance took only five minutes, was reported en route back to Beverly Hills to close her house before leaving on a trip to New York and Texas with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wood.

MEET AT GALION

GALION—Men were in charge of business, program and refreshments for the March meeting of the Parent-Teacher association at the North school Tuesday night. Carl Shaw acted as president, and Edward Garverick was the secretary.

The program, which was in charge of W. F. VonBrock, opened with group singing. Selections were played by a clarinet quartet from the Senior high school and this was composed of Jean Huy, June Morkel, Evelyn Holderness and Betty Carleton. There were accordion numbers by Kenneth Rensch. A short address was given by O. E. Hill, superintendent of schools.

HERE'S WHAT CITY COUNCIL DID WITH MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS

AMENDED the city's traffic code to prohibit parking on Grimes alley from Park avenue west to West Third street.

REFERRED to the street committee a petition submitted by property owners on Ruby alley seeking to change the name of the thoroughfare to Glessview place.

TURNED over to the sewer committee a protest presented by Mrs. Jennie L. Ackerman, 79 Reba avenue, against the sanitary sewer assessment.

REFERRED request of property owners on Fairlawn avenue seeking the grading on the street and the construction of curbs and gutters to the street committee.

REFERRED bill for $515 for architects' fees on the recently completed No. 2 fire station, submitted by Althouse and Jones, to the finance committee.

REFERRED to the claims committee two claims totaling $321.87 for damages to the basements as the result of the sanitary sewers backing up. They were presented by Mrs. Richard Lane, 179 Carpenter road, and Otto Touby, 60 Mansfield avenue.

REFERRED to claims committee claim of Robert Durkin, R. D. 6, Mansfield, for $96 damages to his automobile which dropped into an open manhole on West Fifth street.

ORDINANCE providing for the licensing of solicitors and canvassers was given a second reading. The bill comes up for final action April 4.

FLU EPIDEMIC CLOSES SCHOOL AT HAYESVILLE

70 Pupils, One Third of Total Enrollment, Ill; Opening Set for Next Monday.

ASHLAND — Classes at the Hayesville school will remain closed until March 13, it was announced here following the absence of a large number of pupils suffering from influenza.

The schools were closed by the school authorities after 70 pupils, or one-third of the entire enrollment, failed to show up for school on account of illness, it was stated.

It was reported that of those who were absent, two had scarlet fever.

SUES HIGHWAY HEAD

ASHLAND—Robert S. Beightler, director of the Ohio State Highway department, has been named defendant in a $300 damage suit filed in common pleas court here by Mont Rush of Mohican township.

Rush in his petition asks the amount as damages for losses said to have been caused to his land and buildings June 20, 1938, when a crew of highway department workers, without permission, according to Rush, entered his property.

It is claimed in the petition filed by Rush that the crew cut grass, crops, dug ditches across his land, tore down the fence and trees, destroyed tiling and drainage.

10 LOSE JOBS

Highway Employes Fired at Bucyrus; Monnett Gets Post.

BUCYRUS—The dismissal of 10 laborers in the state highway department and the employment of 11 laborers, one assistant engineer and one inspector, was announced today by James Atkinson, resident highway engineer for Crawford and Richland counties.

Robert "Bob" Monnett, well known Green Bay Packers football player, was employed as assistant engineer and H. G. McMichael of North Robinson was employed as an inspector. Monnett is a graduate of the engineering school of Michigan State university. Laborers employed were Herman Bowers, Rollis Finical, Lewis Houff, George Jacob, Jerry McBride, Charles Miller, Lester Myers, Otto Steiger, Philip Stentz, Robert Thatcher and Harry Thoman.

The dismissals this week brought the total to 20 dismissed during the past three weeks.

Municipal Court Receipts Up $300 During February

Municipal court receipts for February totaling $1,663.74 showed an increase of more than $300 over the collections for January, the monthly report of collections prepared by Miss Isabel Gerstmeyer, deputy clerk, disclosed today.

The major portion of the gain in February was attributed to the increased revenues from traffic fines resulting from the police department's current campaign on parking violators which showed a 40 per cent increase over the January collections. A $180 gain was shown in this division.

From the total receipts, the city's general fund will be increased by $1,467.24 while $196.50 will be distributed to the state, county and the maintenance of the law library. The city's share was derived from $1,168.79 collected as fines, costs and forfeitures in criminal cases and $298.45 collected as costs in civil cases.

WED 50 YEARS

GALION—Twenty guests were present to celebrate the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Shumaker, residing two miles south of Galion. A dinner was served Sunday at the home to the guests, who included members of their family and a few close friends from Marion, Upper Sandusky, Mansfield, Tiffin, Crestline and Blooming Grove.

Before their marriage at St. Joseph's Catholic church here on March 4, 1889, Mrs. Shumaker was the former Susan Miller. The couple have lived at the present residence for the past 29 years, living for some time near Salem. They are the parents of three children.

GALION — Dismissals at Good Samaritan hospital Tuesday were Mrs. Chester Cass to her home south of Galion; J. Reese to his home on Orange street. Mrs. H. L. Bodley of West Church street, and Mrs. Dell Taber of Grove avenue, were admitted to the hospital Monday evening for treatment.

The Past Matrons' circle of Naomi chapter, Order of Eastern Star, held its monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon and later enjoyed a dinner at Bemiller's. Covers were laid for 13 members. Plans were made to hold a "Family Night" party at the Masonic Temple in May. Mrs. J. C. Zimmerman was in charge of the business session. The group planned to attend the district meeting of the Past Matrons' association at Crestline on Saturday.

Following the regular meeting of Bell of Liberty council, Daughters of America, Tuesday night, the hostesses for the social hours were Mrs. Hazel Lemon and Mrs. Dorothy Bishop.

Members of the J. O. Y. girls class of the First Reformed church met at the home of Dorothy Vossers. Plans were made to hold a potluck supper on the last Monday of this month. In the contests, prizes were awarded to Marybelle Swick and Virginia Rensch.

ROB STATIONS AT CRESTLINE

CRESTLINE—Four filling stations, all located on Main street, were broken into Monday evening. Entrance to all of them was gained by cutting the glass from rear windows.

Gum, candy and cigaret machines in the various stations were forced open and the cash taken. A total of $40 was reported taken from the four places, the largest amount, about $20, was taken from the Groh Linco station. Other stations entered were the Texaco Service, Speelman Bros. Service, and West Auto Supply and Sunoco station.

The Buick garage on Main street was broken into Sunday and three wheels and four tires taken from a new sedan there. Two other cases were also reported to the police over the weekend where thieves had been at work but were scared away.

PRESENT PLAY

JOHNSVILLE — A cast of 12 young people of the St. John's Lutheran church, one mile south of here, will present the first of two performances of a three-act mystery play, "Hobgoblin House," March 17 in the Johnsville school auditorium.

The second performance will be given March 22 in the Williamsport grange hall. Both shows will begin at 8 p. m. Those in the cast are Grace Kochheiser, Margaret Hildebrand, Irene Hildebrand, Pearl Lanker, Elaine Levering, Helen Baker, Richard Baker, Donald Lewis, Wayne Craven, Dwight Craven, John Phillips and Dwight Altman.

Rev. J. M. O'Morrow, pastor of the church, will direct the play. Assisting him will be Boyd Phillips, David Gano, Helen and Charlene Wirick. Proceeds will be used for repairs on the church.

PLANS PLAY

SHELBY—Plans to send delegates to the Lakeside Institute in August were completed last night when the Epworth League cabinet of the First Methodist church met at the church. A play will be given by the league in the near future to raise funds for the delegates. The league will co-operate with the church choir in presenting its annual Easter Sunrise service on April 7.

SEES FAIR MOVIES

TEAR GAS USED ON PICKET LINE

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Police tear gas, hurled as at least half a dozen persons were hurt in street fighting, broke up a belligerent line of pickets last night at a Catholic-sponsored meeting which praised the Franco regime in Spain.

The demonstration occurred in front of the Wilshire-Ebell Club theater, where Aileen O'Brien, formerly a nurse with the Spanish Nationalist army, spoke under the auspices of the Catholic Theater guild with the authorization of Archbishop John J. Cantwell.

Two police officers suffered eye burns from the gas bombs, some of which were thrown back at police by the 200 or more pickets.

GOP HARMONY SHATTERED BY PROTEST BLOC

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS — The Republican state administration, whose legislative machinery has been a model of harmony, had a revolt on its hands today for the first time.

Rev. Ralph A. Siferd, (R-Auglaize), a member of the house military affairs committee, openly organized opposition to the administration "ripper" bill aimed at Adjt. Gen. Emil F. Marx.

Although Gov. John W. Bricker bluntly asserted "I'm for the bill," Siferd said he would carry his fight against it to the floor of the house and hoped to lay the foundation for a referendum on the measure, in event it was passed.

Abolishes 'Life Tenure.'

The measure, already recommended for passage by the military affairs committee, would oust the adjutant general and his assistant adjutant general and assistant quartermaster general and abolish the "life tenure" for their offices, established by the legislature two years ago.

"I'm against life tenure in such offices," the governor explained. He said reports that Col. Harry D. Jackson, a Circleville physician, would be named successor to Marx in event the proposed legislation went through were "absolutely unfounded."

The administration meanwhile encountered further delay in its plan for re-organizing the civil service commission.

The house committee on organization of state government, after hearing speakers attacked the present commission, deferred action until next Tuesday on a bill to replace the two-member body with a three-member commission and a personnel administrator.

Opponents of the bill had demanded more time in which to answer "mistatements."

Some committee members also indicated a desire to prepare a substitute embracing the best points of several civil service "ripper" bills.

Slapped, Knocked Down, Says Former 'Miss Los Angeles'

HOLLYWOOD —(INS)— Details of an asserted Hollywood night club fight between Cliff Henderson, nationally known sports promoter, and Vivian Coe, dark-haired beauty, whose titles include that of "Miss Los Angeles," were expected to be bared Friday when Henderson appears for a hearing on battery charges brought by Miss Coe.

Miss Coe, currently appearing at a Hollywood night spot, charged Henderson hit her so hard Sunday night that he knocked her down.

Appearing before Assistant City Attorney Don Redwine, Miss Coe, said that she encountered Henderson and Henderson's lady friend, she observed that the lady friend was wearing a sweater which, Miss Coe said, belonged to her.

She protested, she said, and Henderson allegedly slapped her, sending her reeling. Miss Coe said she came back and slapped Henderson who then hit her so hard she was knocked down. She also charged that Henderson called her names.

Up and Down THE STREET

The recent birthday anniversary of Dr. Millard C. Hanson, former Mansfield health commissioner, was the occasion for a Toledo Blade columnist to give the health chief a "pat on the back." The columnist wrote: "Toledo's director of health, Dr. Hanson, who came within an inch of being named state health commissioner to succeed another Toledoan, Dr. Walter Hartung, is one of the very few boys born in Howard, S. D., who came east to make good instead of going west as Horace Greeley once advised the youth of America. Dr. Hanson seems to be making a name for himself in city work."

Vernon E. "Sam" Vining, manager of department store sales promotion for the Westinghouse company, will carry his homely sales philosophy to members of the Columbus Exchange club Thursday noon at the Chittenden hotel. Today's issue of the Ohio State Journal carries a two-column story and picture of the Mansfield man. "In most of the larger cities," the story says, "Vining has acquired a wide reputation and a variety of unofficial titles, among them the Dean of Retail Salesmen, the Will Rogers of the Electrical Industry and often the Red Suspender Philosopher."

State Highway Patrolman C. B. Tieben thought he was "seeing double" when he came out of a downtown restaurant yesterday to find the motorcycle he had parked there a few minutes before gone, and in its place a similar machine with a sidecar. It wasn't until the officer got back to the barracks that he learned that Corp. J. E. Ruch, heading out on patrol duty, saw the machine sitting in front of the restaurant, and "traded."

Anyway, he came to school sporting a goatee of rather trim proportions. He took the kidding nobly, but admits that he doesn't intend to wear it forever. Just started it to see if it would grow, he says.

NO PROGRESS

Addition to Postoffice Fails to Materialize.

Mansfield's new postoffice extension and remodeling, which was to have been started Feb. 1, seemingly was no nearer becoming a reality today than it was last fall.

Since a sum of $180,000 was appropriated by the last congress for expanding and modernizing the present federal building, engineers have come to the city at various times to make a survey of the grounds and building, but as yet the postoffice department has not obtained title to the adjoining property from the Mansfield Mutual Fire Insurance company, 43 West Fourth street.

Dale Horner, assistant secretary of the insurance company said today that although he had received notification of condemnation proceedings last December, and his company had filed an answer, the case has not yet been set for hearing.

Postmaster Herman Homberger said that he had no recent communication from the department.

AUNT JEMIMA COMING TO CITY

Three Mansfield Markets To Sponsor 3-Day Appearance.

Under the auspices of three Mansfield markets Aunt Jemima of pancake fame, will spend three days in this city demonstrating the "electrified" way of making this national delicacy.

Aunt Jemima is almost as famous for her bouyant personality as for her golden brown pancakes, which she serves to customers, with butter and syrup throughout the day. She makes about 15,000 pancakes a week.

Tomorrow this dispenser of pancakes and cheer will work at the Buehler market, West Fourth street; Friday she will take her electric griddle to the Park grocery on Diamond street, and Saturday she will demonstrate at the U-Save market.

FUNERAL FRIDAY

Funeral services for Everett M. Silcott, 49, who died of monoxide gas poisoning at the General hospital Tuesday, will be held at the Finefrock funeral home at 1 p. m. Friday. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

Mr. Silcott was overcome by fumes from a gas heater at the WPA housekeepers' aid headquarters, 52 East First street, where he served as janitor.

NEUTRALITY ACT SHIFT PRESSED

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—With the defense program over its biggest hurdles, indications grew today that the administration soon might ask congress to overhaul the neutrality act.

President Roosevelt expressed dissatisfaction with the law late yesterday, telling reporters that it had not contributed to world peace. Instead, he said, it may have been partly responsible for threats of war.

The chief executive spoke shortly after the senate had approved, 77 to 8, the $358,000,000 army expansion bill. The measure, previously passed by the house in slightly different form, now goes to a joint committee for adjustment of the discrepancies.

Administration leaders in the senate entered debate on the army measure to advance the same view the president expressed at his press conference—that the neutrality act has not been effective as an instrument of peace.

There was speculation that the administration might propose revising the law to permit the president to discriminate against aggressor nations if congress approved.

Parts of the neutrality act expire May 1, and the administraton presumably will try to enact new legislation before that date.

'PAINTING' MADE BY MANSFIELD MAN GOES IN RIPLEY'S EXHIBIT

When Robert Ripley's famous "odditorium" of Believe-It-Or-Not exhibits opens at the World's Fair in New York next month it will house the work of a Mansfield man.

Mack J. Esto, 26, of 332 West Sixth street, who painted the Rheims cathedral with thousands of pieces of colored wood, will ship his picture to the Ripley odditorium early next week. It will be displayed by Ripley during the fair and will be offered for sale.

Esto, who is employed in the water tanks department of the Westinghouse company, spends his leisure time in art work. Several

He finished it last August after working on it for three years. The picture, which has all of the lights and shadows of the original painting, it made up of 38,000 tiny pieces of wood. There are 36 different varieties and colors of wood which came from all parts of the world, including woods that are naturally purple, red, black and ivory.

Esto wrote to Ripley six months ago telling him of his work and this week received a letter from him asking to display the picture in the Ripley odditorium at the World's fair.

RARE ILLNESS

Stricken Canton Girl Baffles Doctors in Two Cities.

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Doctors today examined 13-year-old Erma Jean Hill of Canton to determine the nature of her critical illness, described by one physician as a rare form of streptococcus infection, and to learn whether blood transfusions might help her to recover.

The girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Hill was brought to a hospital here from her home last night. Dr. A. R. Basinger of North Canton, who attended the girl at her home, said she was suffering from a subacute bacterial endocarditis.

Dr. Walter Tupper said today however, that diagnosis of her case would not be completed for another day. He described the girl's condition as "still critical."

DIES ON VISIT

LOUDONVILLE — Mrs. Maude Site, 65, of South Wood street, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. G. W. Obrecht, near Mohican, today of pneumonia. Mrs. Site became ill while visiting at the home of her sister Sunday.

She was born in Ashland county, Nov. 11, 1884, and spent her entire life in this vicinity. Surviving are her husband, Thomas; four sisters, Mrs. Guy Lehr of Big Prairie, Mrs. Oscar Nunnamaker of Mansfield, Mrs. N. C. Kendall of Ashland and Mrs. Obrecht, and a brother, Floyd Dudte of Jeromesville. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

LEWIS' MERGER PROPOSAL CAST ASIDE BY FOES

Rejection Precedes Start of Peace Conference Called by Roosevelt.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The AFL and CIO peace committees recessed their first joint conference on a settlement of their labor war today with an agreement to meet again in New York City March 10.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—Prompt A. F. of L. rejection of John L. Lewis' proposal to merge all major labor unions into one new organization provoked a fresh disagreement today at the very start of peace negotiations between the A. F. of L. and the CIO.

After a preliminary White House meeting at which Lewis made his surprise offer, the two committees came together this morning on the neutral ground of a labor department conference room.

The A. F. of L. committee was reinforced by Danial J. Tobin, an outstanding advocate of labor peace, who had first refused to serve but who changed his mind yesterday.

Holds Silence.

Except for a blunt refusal to accept Lewis' suggestions for amalgamating the CIO, A. F. of L. and four big railroad brotherhoods into a new American Congress of Labor, the A. F. of L. committee remained silent on its plans.

It expected, however, to counter the Lewis proposal with one of its own to bring about a united labor movement by taking in the CIO unions on terms which Lewis once rejected.

The addition of Tobin to the A. F. of L. committee brought reports from administration quarters of new hopes that the conferences would result in a settlement. Tobin's reconsideration was said to have been prompted by urging of administration officials.

As the head of the powerful Teamsters' union, Tobin is rated by these men as one of the chief figures in the negotiations. He holds the biggest bloc of votes in the A. F. of L., and on several occasions has thundered demands for a settlement of the labor war.

Lewis' scheme, which would affect some 8,000,000 workers, called for the CIO and A. F. of L. to sanction the creation of a new labor movement by June 1. This would supercede and embrace their respective memberships and would include all the nation's biggest rail unions, the Brotherhoods of Engineers, the Locomotive Enginemen and Firemen, the Trainmen, and the Order of Railway Conductors.

ATTACK FATAL

Samuel Viock, 67, Found Dead From Heart Ailment.

Samuel Viock, 67, of 40½ Park avenue west, was found dead last evening at his home by a neighbor, Isaac Hartman. Coronor Hugh Winbigler said death was due to a heart attack.

A native of Pennsylvania, Mr. Viock was home alone when he was stricken. He was a member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Surviving are a daughter, Viola, of Detroit; a son, Lester, of Dayton; a step-daughter, Mrs. Arvilla Boals, of Mansfield, and three sisters and two brothers.

The body was removed to the Wappner funeral home where services will be held at 10 a. m. Friday. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

M. E. BAKER DIES IN HOME AT 75

Born Near Lucas, Spent Most of Life In Richland County.

McClelland E. Baker, 75, rear 277 East Second street, died Tuesday at his home after an illness of several months. He was born near Lucas, May 11, 1863, and spent the greater part of his life in this county.

Surviving are four sons, Carl, Donald, Freeman and Clyde; a daughter, Mrs. Roy Cornwell of Mansfield, and 17 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

The body was removed to the Wappner funeral home where services will be held at 1 p. m. Friday with Rev. S. R. Parrett of the Gospel Center church. Burial will be in the Odd Fellows cemetery, Lucas.

EXPIRES IN AUTO

CHARLESTON, W. Va.—(AP)—The body of Erwin E. Schreiber, 40, of Columbus, O., was found today in the driveway of the Hawk's Nest country club, 45 miles east of here on U. S. route 60. Authorities said Schreiber apparently had taken his own life.

A hose had been attached to the exhaust pipe of Schrieber's coupe and had brought carbon monoxide gas into the interior.

FAIR ENOUGH!

—By WESTBROOK PEGLER

MIAMI—I would like to hear the private thoughts of some tourists from the crazy countries after a few hours or days in Miami, the more so the thoughts of some who had had a chance to fly or motor over the territory that lies within, say 100 miles.

They would not be entirely charmed, for life and administration lack that army post precision, backed by penalties, which they know at home and without which, it would seem to them any country must soon go to rot and riot. Nor would they be pleased by the waste of land and fruit of the land, still so apparent in Florida even after 20 years of exploitation, booms, relapses and cultivation.

* * *

To people who live on rations and eat bread made of flour diluted with sawdust and buttered with whale blubber, the careless, easy methods of the Americans and the primitiveness of the country cabins and leaky town slums would be a shocking sin.

They boast of the roads which they have built, but Florida has half-forgotten stretches of smooth, paved highways as straight as ruled lines leading off through jungles of pine and vine, apparently to nowhere, with occasional vast clearings of oranges, grapefruit and garden truck, ripe in midwinter.

* * *

Just the abandoned groves alone, the weed-grown and half-blighted trees yielding pinched and speckled fruits, would be worth the lives of whole divisions of Hitlerized Germans or Fascist Italians, but somehow during the great speculative shuffle, Americans bought acreage, declared it, planted trees and then, by various calamities, financial and personal, were compelled to abandon their farms.

Such deserted groves are common, and even without assistance from man, many trees still yield fruit that would be a luxury in Italy or Germany.

Deserted Florida skeleton villages with paved boulevards, sidewalks, street lamps and sagging portals, some underlaid with water mains and sewers, would cry out for a dictator to take hold and carry through the original plans by forced labor and confiscated capital. The seas and lakes, alive with fish good to eat, would be worked and patrolled, the food distributed to the slaves by the dictator's hand and the endless reaches of untouched soil put to work.

This land, this city and its near surroundings are noted as a place for frivolity, innocent and sinful, according to taste, but the growth continues in spite of many errors and unavoidable disasters.

* * *

It appears, too, that the evilness that was likely to poison the whole life of the community has abated greatly, for night club and gambling activities no longer dominate the social side of existence, although race track gambling helps to support the schools and therefore receives protection from unfair competition.

Great flying boats drone over the southerly suburbs to and from the great Pan-American base, an adventurous novelty now grown into an amazing system of transportation.

Yet the base, with a traffic of 10,000 in international passengers a month, is not very well known to the Americans as a nation, even so. But if this were Hitler's land, or Mussolini's, this triumph would be written in fire in the sky and, no doubt, in the fears of the neighbors as well.

Yes, indeed, a German or an Italian must sail away bug-eyed from a touch at the port of Miami, Fla., a casual possession of the Americans and known to most of them only as a place to play.

Hollywood Speaks—

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Guess who studies "music appreciation" as part of her prescribed high school course? Deanna Durbin, who not only appreciates it but makes it enough to lift the mortgage from a whole studio! . . .

And here's the perfect tribute to Deanna. A young movie fan came a long way to visit Hollywood—but mainly to see Deanna. In the Universal lunchroom he was placed near her usual table, but unfortunately when she came in she took a seat at his back. The boy is 17—and perpetually hungry. But that day he didn't eat much. He just went through the motions—and I discovered later that he was preoccupied with other more important matters. By holding his knife at a certain angle, he could see the Durbin reflection, albeit distorted, without turning rudely to gaze at her. When I heard this, I had to arrange a meeting as a reward for such devotion. And after that was done, the young devotee floated off the stage on a cloud.

"After this," he said soulfully, "practically Anything will be an Anti-Climax!" . . .

* * *

Sight of the week—or any week: Martha Raye, sitting primly at a table in La Conga, wearing a dignified hat with black veil behind—and the next minute getting up to lead the group dance (la conga) like the Martha Raye you know in pictures—indefatigably. . . . Joan Bennett, Hedy Lamarrish in her new brown hair, not dancing it—or THAT would have been the sight of the week. . . .

Al Jolson is through with his vaudeville-and-song air routine, is seeking a sponsor for a straight song program—which to my mind would be something to dial in the current flood of alleged humor which spews from the loudspeakers. . . .

If you can believe the rumors Clark Gable doesn't like his "Wind" girl any more than the protestors at her selection. . . . And Mr. S., the producer, is having headaches. . . . The picture is in its third year of Talk, its second week of Work, and already is on its second director. . . . Timely suggestion: Why not warm up Ratoff, who replaced Roy Del Ruth when latter walked on "Rose of Washington Square?" Greg Ratoff, a Russian, ought to be the Perfect Choice to direct the English and Ohio stars of an old South epic. . . .

* * *

I don't know that it'll make anybody happier, but it's good to know how to measure an elephant.

Charley, former elephant-buyer in Indian jungles where they don't have ten-ton scales handy, now is one of the ex-circus folk in the movies, and he's boss canvasman for the Lee Tracy flicker. "What's a Fixer For?" Anyway, here's how: You take a piece of rope and loop it around the elephant's hoof at ground level. Three times the length of the loop is the animal's height. Then you lead your prospect up to a pile of assorted logs and let him pick out with his trunk the heaviest long he can lift off the ground. Five times the weight of that log is the elephant's own weight. . . . You're welcome.

Would Ask Canada To Quit Britain, Join U. S. 'Union'

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Two Akron members of the Ohio house of representatives gave their colleagues something to scratch their heads about today.

Rep. Gus Kasch, Democrat, offered a resolution memorializing congress and President Roosevelt to invite Canada to withdraw from the British empire and join the United States and other North American republics in an anti-war union.

Rep. George Harter, also a Democrat, proposed in another resolution that he and Rep. William Bacon (R., Mahoning") be appointed "honorary co-pilots" of the state bureau of aeronautics to promote "a program of blind flying." Harter and Bacon are sightless.

FIRST PARTY FETES MARCH BRIDE-ELECT

Mrs. Earl Herrick Carries Out Dutch Theme In Decorations for Pre-Nuptial Dessert-Bridge Honoring Martha Fichter.

THE FIRST in a series of pre-nuptial parties honoring Miss Martha Fichter, bride-elect of George H. Bender, was given yesterday evening by Mrs. Earl Herrick at her home on West Park drive.

The affair was a linen shower and dessert-bridge, with a Dutch or Holland theme predominating. The guests were seated at small tables for the dessert and each table was centered with a miniature dutch garden. Tiny gardens were formed around a mirror-lake and were made of snapdragons, sweet peas, narcissus and fern. Tiny china Hollanders adorned the gardens too.

Mrs. Herrick's young cousin, Maryone Smith, assisted with Polly Sue was dressed as a little Dutch girl and had her blond hair braided into pigtails. Later in the evening, when the guests presented the hostess with gifts, Maryone carried them into the room in a large basket, which had bright tulips tied to the handle.

Bridge was the diversion of the evening and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Russell Dvorak and Mrs. Howard Yarnell, who presented them to Miss Fichter. Mrs. Herrick also gave the honoree a gift of linen.

Miss Fichter and Mr. Bender will be married on March 18 at the Detroit Avenue Methodist Episcopal church in Lakewood. Rev. Mervin C. Hunt, who was formerly pastor of the Central Methodist Episcopal church here, will perform the ceremony.

Sorosis To Meet Again March 21

With the club year fast drawing to a close plans for the last meeting in May were announced at the Women's Club last night when Miss Grace Courtney entertained members of the Mansfield Sorosis. Mrs. W. E. Wygant, who gave the paper on "Life and Customs in Scandinavia," will be hostess March 21 at the Club, and Mrs. S. D. Hoover and Miss Bertha Patterson will present the program.

In her talk last night Mrs. Wygant told of holiday customs, the daily life of Scandinavian peoples, and the educational and cultural facilities of their community life. Mrs. F. M. Remy followed with a review of the book "A Scandinavian Summer" by Harry Frank, in which the author told of life, industry and scenery in the northern European countries. Roll call was answered with the names of famous Scandinavian people.

Entertain Guests During Session of W. W. G.

Mrs. A. L. Fankhauser, Mrs. Oliver McAllister, Mrs. John Pocock and Mrs. Katherine Pocock were guests of the Senior World Wide guild of the Park Avenue Baptist church last evening when Mrs. Paul Birmelin entertained at her home on Springmill street. There were also 14 members in attendance at the meeting, when Mrs. Russell Odenkirk, president, conducted the business session.

Mrs. Clare Casto read the devotions, and Mrs. Wayne Williams reviewed the study book. Miss Mary Lou Balliett, associate hostess for the evening, assisted the hostess, when refreshments were served later. A covered-dish dinner at the church will be an event of April 4 for members of the guild.

ENTERTAINS GROUP.

The regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the International Typographical Union was held last night at the home of Mrs. Harold Bracey, 35 Altamont avenue, with 12 members present. Prizes were won by Mrs. P. M. Wragg and Mrs. Rose Graham. The next regular meeting of the auxiliary will be held April 4 at the home of Mrs. Walter Hartwig on McPherson street. Mrs. Donna Beckett was a guest of the organization.

Readings, Music on Program of Circle

A program including a dialogue by the Misses Virginia Jenkins and Geraldine Hostettler, and a reading by Miss Jenkins was given last night at the parish house when 38 members of the Helpers circle of the First Lutheran church met. Miss Laura Konrad read the devotions.

After a brief meeting the program was given. In addition to the above features Miss Eloise Harbaugh played several violin numbers with Miss Anna Klippel at the piano. Hostesses last night were Miss Mary Hamon, Mrs. Cora Baer, Mrs. Wilhemina Maul, Miss Ethel Wirts, Mrs. Mayme Guiher, and Mrs. Florence Herbrand. The next meeting will be April 4 at the parish house.

* * *

REGULAR SESSION.

Mrs. Donald Orewiler, South Main street, assisted by Miss Ruth Orewiler, was hostess last night to members of the Young Women's Missionary society of the Ontario Community church when Mrs. John Mabee led the devotions and Miss Thelma Shafer reviewed a chapter of the study book. There were two guests, Mrs. Flossie Williams and Miss Naomi Daniels, present. Contest winners were Mrs. William Mabee, Miss Shafer and Mrs. Leo Mowry. The next meeting will be held April 4 with Mrs. Carl Smith, Bartley avenue, with Mrs. L. C. Stingel as associate hostess.

Complete Plans For Initiation Of Chi Sigmas

Further plans for formal initiation ceremonies for pledges of the Chi Sigma sorority were made yesterday evening when the active members of the group met for their regular business session at the Mansfield-Leland hotel. Miss Florence Nail, president of the organization, was in charge of the meeting.

It was announced that Mrs. Charlotte Perrin of Indianapolis, Ind., will be a guest of the sorority at that time. Mrs. Perrin is editor-in-chief of the "Chi Scribbler," monthly sorority publication. These initiation ceremonies will be held at the hotel on March 28, with Miss Wilma Snider in charge of arrangements. She will be assisted by the Misses Mary Straser, Mary Elizabeth Miller, Ruth Zelenka, Naomi Stutz, and Florence Nail.

The group also completed plans for their St. Patrick's benefit dance which will be an event of March 18 in the ballroom at the hotel, with Tommy Van's orchestra furnishing the music. There will be another regular business meeting of the sorority next Tuesday evening at the hotel.

* * *

PLAN SALE.

When members of the Delano auxiliary met last evening at Delano hall, they formulated plans for a bake sale to be held in the near future. The group played card games during the evening, and later luncheon was served. The next meeting of the auxiliary will be on March 21 at the hall.

Informally Speaking...

By MARIANNE

IT'S JUST ABOUT NOW—when spring is only a little way around the corner—that you eye your winter wardrobe with disdain and cast longing glances at that new spring ensemble. . . . But in spite of the fact that you really want a new spring suit or coat, chilling March winds and data about flu epidemics convince you that you wouldn't dare to venture forth in a lightweight suit or topper for at least another month.

* * *

So it would seem that at this particular season of the year milady would do best if she purchased a new spring dress to wear with her winter coat and brighten it up . . . and there are lots of pretty styles cut along the latest lines in all the new spring shades in the downtown shops.

* * *

IF YOURE a petit blond with blue eyes (and you can wear a size nine!) I saw the very dress for you yesterday. It's a jacket frock style of sky blue crepe fashioned along princess lines with a gored skirt. The top or blouse part of the dress is made from white organdy with tiny white daisies appliqued on it . . . and the girdle of the blue silk jacket fastens with crystal buttons of the same daisy motif. Perhaps the most unusual note of this costume, however, is the trim on the jacket—fluffy white lace held in place by dusky rose piping which borders the girdle, sleeves and collar . . . and a grosgrain ribbon bow of the same rose shade serves to hold the collar in place under the chin.

* * *

Once upon a time (not so many years ago) it was smart and stylish to have all accessories matching—or if you combined two colors, it was indeed necessary that they harmonized. . . . Ah, but this year is a new year—and to be perfectly groomed you should combine at least three colors . . . and Betty Hammel has done that very thing in one of her new spring outfits. . . . The silk crepe dress has a royal blue swing skirt with a chartreuse top. The extra jacket, which is of a novelty weave, is a cyclamen color—and then the chartreuse collar of the dress folds out over the bright jacket—making a smart tri-colored ensemble.

* * *

Do you knit—or just admire those who do? In either case you should be more than pleased with a surf colored two-piece dress which Martha Gale, noted stylist, designed for spring and summer wear. . . . The front of the skirt is pleated and the sleeves and neck of the blouse are trimmed with yellow yarn . . . but the buttons are the special feature of this dress—they trim the front of the blouse and are made from yellow balls of yarn with knitting needles sticking through the center!

* * *

BLACK seems always to be a favorite no matter what the season. Margaret McFadden has a new black crepe dress with a full skirt which falls in soft folds from the fitted hip line. Margaret's frock is topped with a pert swinging, detachable, quilted bolero jacket with a mandarin neckline. The smart new gypsy influence is introduced at the waist of this dress with a wide two-tone girdle of royal blue and cyclamen crepe—thus Margaret has a lot of important new features for spring combined in one dress—a high waist, quilted bolero, wide girdle and a three-color combination.

* * *

HOSIERY HIGHLIGHTS: It is important that you wear just the right shade of hosiery to off-set your new spring dress. . . . Suntan shades seem to be the most popular again this season, but they're somewhat brighter or lighter than last year—thus giving a slightly livelier effect that is in key with the clearer tones of this year's light, bright pastels as compared with last year's dusty ones.

* * *

ADDED ATTRACTIONS: To perk up your purse (and keep your nose shine proof) you'd better get one of those grand large-size compacts they're selling downtown now. These vanities are a combination of leather and wood with fine clear mirrors and large puffs—but the most important spring note on them is the bright flower painted panel on top—some of yellow daffodils and others, pink dogwood. . . . Better have one soon!

* * *

Note: The styles described above are available in Mansfield shops. You can learn where they may be obtained if you will telephone Marianne between 1 and 2:30 p. m.

Class Entertains With Dinner For 90, Program

Members of the March and April committees were in charge of the covered-dish dinner meeting of the Rain or Shine class of the South Main Street Evangelical church at which members of the St. Paul's class were entertained last night. Supper was served to 90 by Mrs. Amber Eberhardt, Mrs. J. H. Dir, Mrs. Ella Frantz, Mrs. Grace Campbell, Mrs. Ira Hissong, Mrs. Argale Treisch, Mrs. Flora Harris, Mrs. Myrtle McCready and Mrs. Marjorie Ludwig.

A short business meeting was conducted by Mrs. C. M. Hunter, Rain or Shine class president, and Mrs. E. A. Rinehart led the devotions. A program was then presented by Mrs. A. A. Bellore who first presented Mrs. Dir who welcomed the guests. The response was read by L. C. Campbell president of the men's class.

Talks were given by both Mr. and Mrs. Hunter, Rev. C. L. Kerr, W. G. Herrold and E. K. Tingley. Mrs. T. T. Haas, Wooster, former teacher of the class, also spoke. Vocal music was presented by Mary Jane Bellore and Don Kirkpatrick with Miss Pauline Statler accompanying.

Eugene Fritz then presented movies and a talk illustrating scenes in Canada, Niagara Falls and local incidents and scenes. The next regular meeting will be held May 2.

Re-elect Officers at Travelers' Club Meet

Mrs. Avery C. Hand was re-elected president of the Traveler's club for the next year, when members of that organization met at the Women's Club for 1 o'clock luncheon. Other officers re-elected were: Mrs. F. A. Voegele, first vice president; Mrs. W. L. Miller, second vice president; Mrs. E. R. Hartman, secretary; and Mrs. John L. Connors, treasurer.

Mrs. W. L. Miller was hostess for yesterday's meeting, and she also conducted the business session. The club members will hold their final meeting of the year on March 28 at the Women's Club with Mrs. H. T. Pritchard serving as hostess. Mrs. Lionel Miller will give a book review at that time.

PLAY BRIDGE.

There were seven tables in play yesterday at the home when members of the American Legion Bridge club were entertained by Mrs. Louis DeCamp. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Ralph Schad, Mrs. John Stentz, Mrs. Harvey Burghard and Mrs. Charles Condon. The next meeting will be March 21 with Mrs. Marion DeHart as hostess.

ALPHA PI SIGMA SETS SPRING DANCE DATE

Arrangements for Annual Function Made Last Night At Mansfield-Leland Hotel: Affair to Be Held April 29.

DURING the meeting of the Alpha Pi Sigma sorority last night at the Mansfield-Leland hotel first plans for the organization's annual dance were made. The affair will be held in the ballroom of the hotel April 29. Members of the committee include Mrs. Donald Snyder, Mrs. Alyce Vahar, Mrs. Charles Wilkinson, Miss Marvel Wiegand and Miss Marie Kalbfleisch.

April 18 was selected as the date for informal initiation. After the business session bridge was played at five tables, and Mrs. Ralph Andregg and Mrs. Vahar were the winners. Luncheon was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Richard Martin and Miss Marie Massa.

The next regular meeting of the sorority will be held at the hotel March 21. At this time the Misses Esther and Katherine Pfaff will be in charge of the social hour and bridge which will follow the business session.

* * *

HOSTESS TO CLASS.

Prizes were won by Evelyn Glessner, Thelma Southward, Bessie Hoover, and Mrs. Arthur Simpson yesterday at the meeting of the Alpha class of the Mayflower Congregational church at the home of Mrs. Ralph Bloom, 71 Wood street. There were six members and two guests, Ruth Yeagley and Tommy Bloom, present.

Plan Election At Session In April

Election of officers for the coming year will be conducted April 4 when members of the Dolly Madison club meet at the Mansfield-Leland hotel for the final session of the current season. Miss Lena Longsdorf, Mrs. George Cairns, Mrs. John Daley, Mrs. R. C. Boals, Mrs. Fern Berry, Mrs. J. C. Edwards, Mrs. Florence Webber and Mrs. Jane Beelman will be the hostesses.

Last night in the Chinese room Marshall Moore, attorney, read a paper, "War in China," by Dr. Nettie Greer. Mrs. Boyd Wierman spoke on her recent trip to Florida and two piano solos were given by Marilee Sword. Mrs. Emma Young, president, reported briefly on the Federation of Women's clubs convention which was held in Columbus early this year.

Hostesses were Mrs. Cliff Mitchell, Mrs. W. W. Wierman, Mrs. Boyd Wierman, Mrs. J. F. Elliott, Mrs. Lee Beveridge, Mrs. Olive Walker, Mrs. Bessie Leap and Mrs. J. W. Kennedy.

Mrs. Cook Gives Talk Before Audubon Club

"Grassroot Jungles" was the title of the paper on insect life given by Mrs. Van Cook yesterday at the Women's Club when Mrs. Walter Ober entertained members of the Audubon club. She was followed by Mrs. Hugh Clark who spoke on the English sparrow. One new member was welcomed.

Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Oliver Frey and Mrs. Carl Torrence were named to the nominating committee. The next regular session will be April 4 with Mrs. Henry Paulson, 510 Beechwood drive, in charge.

Serve Dinner to Club at Memorial Building

Following the meeting of the Marquis Sewing circle during the afternoon, members of the Auxiliary to the Charles Dick tent were served a 6 o'clock dinner by Mrs. Louise Shade and her daughter, Myrtle. A routine business meeting was conducted, and it was announced that an all-day quilting would be held at the Memorial building March 16.

The auxiliary is planning to entertain at a public St. Patrick's tea March 21 at the hall. Cards and other games will be played between the hours of 2 and 5 p. m.
